

Yanks Escape Pillbox Trap Despite Nazi Flamethrowers

At the Siegfried Line, Oct. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—It was just before midnight. American troops guarding the forward breaches in Germany's Siegfried line slivered sleepily in the chill foxholes, soppy with rain.

The Nazis picked this disagreeable hour to launch a heavy artillery barrage preliminary to a night counterattack.

The fire concentration became so heavy that Staff Sgt. Richard Sorensen of Chicago, knew he would have to find shelter for his 57 M.M. gun crew.

Nearby an abandoned enemy pillbox loomed dimly and dimly, a grey mass in the black shadow. Sorensen led his men inside and they crouched behind the thick concrete walls until the barrage lifted.

Trapped by Nazis

As they started to leave they heard someone outside the door. It turned out to be a 30-man German assault team assigned to destroy the pillbox. Sorensen and his men, feeling something like turtles being pawed by a bear, immediately began defending it.

Sorensen's men leaped forward to close the steel blinds covering the embrasures but before they did so a German Mörser poked its nose in and began spitting. It missed.

As enemy "burp guns" rattled scores of bullets against the blinds, other Nazis tried to force the door.

Last Minute Rescue

The enemy then brought up two flamethrowers. As twin, searing blasts hit the steel door Sorensen and his boys decided they had about lost their little game of hide and seek. They had nothing to fight flamethrowers.

Just as the enemy was about to burn his way through, however, a group of doughboys returning to positions they had left during the barrage caught the Nazis and opened fire. The survivors ran back through the night toward the Germans' lines and a few seconds later the squad of 57 M.M. gunners stumbled out of the pillbox they had thought would be their grave.

"The only difference was that every one of us sweated off about 30 pounds in weight in there," said Sorensen. "I never was so glad in my life to hit fresh air."

Chased Five Times

Lt. George R. Lescallé of Columbus, Ohio, a mortar observer for a heavy weapons company, knows how it feels to be a duck in a shooting gallery.

Five times in one day he was chased from an observation post by enemy fire. First he picked a house overlooking enemy positions, but snipers' bullets forced him to move to a high garden wall.

Machinesgun fire from hidden Germans made that unhealthy. He chose another house. The Nazis banged in a 170 M.M. shell and set it afire.

6th Try Successful

The lieutenant began digging an observation post on the side of a hill. The enemy sent shells whistling past him before he had removed more than four shovelful of dirt.

Philosophically reminding himself that no war is perfect he established his fifth observation post in an old schoolhouse. Mortar shells immediately started popping on the roof and into the yard.

A little while this time the lieutenant climbed into his sixth observation post of the day—a knocked out tank. There the Germans finally let him alone and he returned out his tour of duty in peace.

BOARD REVISES CALENDAR FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Members of the Gettysburg school board at their October meeting Tuesday evening adopted a revised calendar for the current school year which shortens the Easter vacation to one day and sets June 8 for the closing of the borough schools.

The revised calendar was made necessary because the opening of the schools here was delayed nine days by the polio control measures imposed by the local health authorities.

The directors heard from Superintendent L. C. Keefe that the majority of the high school pupils favor the shortened noon hour and earlier closing time in the afternoon.

Like Short Noon Hour

The superintendent disclosed that in a recent poll of students at the high school Gettysburg pupils voted 206 to 65 in favor of continuation of the shortened noon recess and non-resident pupils, 171 to 53.

The superintendent told the board also that the regular physical inspection of the local school pupils has been started by the school district physician, Dr. Raymond F. Sheely. The examinations were begun in the first grade. Doctor Sheely spends each Tuesday afternoon in the schools.

The directors renewed their annual dues to the state school directors' association and heard routine reports from Director Charles S. Black, chairman of the property committee, on minor improvements and repair to various school properties.

R. Z. Oyer Presides

The report of the school district treasurer, the First National bank, showed that district has a balance of $53,695 in the general fund. Expenditures last month amounted to $10,695. Chief receipt item last month was $33,401 from Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert on the 1944 duplicate. The sinking fund balance is $486.

The monthly cafeteria report showed the high school lunch department was operated at a profit of $101.73 last month.

A number of other school district matters came before the board for discussion and consideration but no final action was taken. All members of the board attended the meeting with President Ralph Z. Oyer presiding. The other members are Mahlon P. Hartzell, Charles M. Sheely, Paul M. Rohrbach, A. E. Hutchison, Charles H. Bender and Charles S. Black.

The board members voted their thanks to Directors Bender and Black who were hosts to the directors and G. W. Lefever, high school principal, and Hugh C. McIlhenry of The Gettysburg Times at dinner at the Green Parlor tea room at Emmisburg before the meeting Tuesday evening.

On Sea Duty

S 1-c Maurice Edward Harmon has arrived in California after a tour of 11 ports in the south Pacific area, according to word received from him by his wife who resides on South Washington street.

S 1-c Harmon was inducted April 3, 1944, and took his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill. He is now a gunner's mate. During a stay of two weeks at one port the Japanese staged 17 aerial raids, one or more raids coming each night. In his recent letter the sailor stated he was sending home some Japanese money and cigarettes.

SOROPTIMISTS NAME MRS. PAPE NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. Eva Pape, vice president of the Soroptimists' club of Gettysburg, was advanced to the presidency Tuesday evening after the club accepted the resignation of Mrs. Florence Bashore Schriver, who was married Tuesday morning in Washington. The former Miss Bashore of Littlestown had been installed as club president recently.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Berger, Carlisle street, with 19 present. The report of the treasurer was given and standing committees' reports were approved. A budget for the coming year, submitted by the finance committee, was adopted.

Miss Julia Peters was named the new finance committee chairman, succeeding Mrs. Pape.

Mrs. Fred Griest, Mrs. Guyon Buehler and Mrs. John Bachensky were appointed as delegates from the local club to attend the fall convention of Soroptimist clubs at the Claridge hotel in Atlantic City, October 21 and 22.

Halloween Party

Mrs. Frederic E. Griest reported for the USO committee and plans were made for the local clubwomen to act as hostesses for a "coffee hour" at Camp Ritchie, November 19. Mrs. Elizabeth Grieb reported for the civic and welfare committee.

The next dinner meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Griest, October 24, in the form of a Halloween party with games and prizes. A white elephant sale also will be conducted and members were asked to bring articles for sale. The committee in charge of the Halloween party plans includes Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, Mrs. Griest and Miss Mary Ramer.

The next business meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Mae Beales, November 7.

Bond Drive Group At Special Meeting

Eight members of the Adams county War Finance committee will go to Harrisburg this evening to attend a dinner meeting and regional conference of the Pennsylvania War Finance committee at the Penn-Harris hotel at 5:30 o'clock.

The business will include an informal discussion of plans and procedures for the Sixth War Loan Drive which opens November 20.

County committee members who will attend include: Edmund W. Thomas, chairman; Paul Thomas, chairman of labor division; Stanislaus Krichen, McSherrytown, vice-chairman of the labor division; Paul L. Moose Women Hold Meeting

Mooseheart Alumni chapter night was observed by the local chapter of the Women of the Moose at a regular meeting Tuesday evening in the chapter home, York street. Twenty-five members attended with Mrs. Ruth Lee acting as chairman.

Doris Trimmer, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Trimmer, presented guitar selections and Nancy Lee, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, gave piano numbers. Duet selections were given by Viola Caskey and Mrs. Marie McGlaughlin. The program closed with the "defending circle" march.

The chapter is making plans for special celebration of its second anniversary on November 15.

Writes Letter Three Days After He's Reported Missing

What appears to be a case of mistaken identity was revealed this morning in the case of a Gettysburg soldier reported missing in action. The conflict develops in a War Department telegram and a letter from the soldier reported missing.

Ten days ago Mrs. Thomas S. Ziegler, Baltimore street, received a letter from her husband, Cpl. Thomas S. Ziegler, written from the Italian battlefield, dated September 20, stating that he was in action in the Allied battle to crack the German defense line in northern Italy into the Po valley. Corporal Ziegler stated he was well.

This morning Mrs. Ziegler received a telegram from the War Department stating her husband was reported missing in action on September 17, three days before Private Ziegler wrote to his wife.

The War Department is being advised of the conflict in the dates and is being asked to make a further check for confirmation and correction.

Corporal Ziegler entered service in September, 1943, and has been overseas since February of this year. He was assigned to the infantry.

Suspect Mistake

Friends of Corporal Ziegler, former operator of a gasoline service station at the corner of East Lincoln avenue and the Harrisburg road, are encouraged and are of the belief that the War Department has made a mistake in identification and that the local man is still alive and with his unit in Italy. They point to the three days' difference in the date as reported in the War Department telegram and the letter received by Mrs. Ziegler as being of sufficient proof that it is a case of mistaken identification, a not unusual case. There have been many similar incidents wherein the War Department as well as the Navy Department have erred, unintentionally.

Five County Boys To Join Air Corps

Five Adams county boys enlisted recently as Air Corps Enlisted Reservists at the AAF examining board in Harrisburg and will be subject to call some time between their eighteenth birthdays and six months thereafter.

The group includes John L. Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gallagher, Ortianna R. 1; William Hardesty Sperry, son of Mrs. Ida H. Sperry, 301 Carlisle street; Richard C. Shealer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shealer, 146 Chambersburg street; Harry A. Spangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Spangler, Gettysburg R. 4; and Edward H. Carbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Carbaugh, 71 Steinwehr avenue.

GEORGE E. FOHL DIES THURSDAY IN ARENDTSTVILLE

George E. Fohl, 62, died at his home in Arendtsville Thursday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health seven years and was bedfast three weeks.

Mr. Fohl, a retired farmer, was a son of the late Amos L. and Leah (Slaybaugh) Fohl, and resided in Arendtsville for the last 22 years. He was a member of Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville, and held various offices in the church. He served as a school director in Mendallen township for several terms. The deceased was a member of the South Mountain Fair association and the Greenmount Cemetery association of Arendtsville.

His first wife, the former Alice E. Cooley, died December 10, 1908.

Surviving is his second wife, the former Minnie A. Golden, to whom he was married 33 years last March; one daughter by his first marriage, Mrs. M. E. Knouse, Arendtsville; two grandchildren, Miss M. Kathryn Knouse and G. Wilmer Knouse, both of Arendtsville; four brothers and sisters, William J. Bigler, Mrs. Kate Poutong, York; Mrs. Clayton Wiernam, Bendersville, and Edward, Aspers R. D.

Funeral services from the late home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longacker, of Gettysburg. Interment in Greenmount cemetery, Arendtsville.

Friends may call at the home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

Ladies Are Guests Of Rotary Club

Ladies' night was observed by the Gettysburg Rotary club Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting held at the Hoffman orphanage. Sixty Rotarians and guests attended.

Featured on the program was a motion picture of the campaign in North Africa, showing the turn of battle and the drive of Montgomery's forces against Rommel's North Africa Corps. The battles to Tunis were shown, and depicted the battle formations employed by Montgomery and the extent to which air power and artillery were used in support of the infantry attacks.

Mrs. Trayer Howe, of Fayetteville, played several accordion selections. Prof. Downing Ide led the singing with Mrs. Paul Kinsey acting as accompanist.

President Walter T. Aitica presided.

ALLAN WEIKERT IS HOME AFTER DUTY IN PACIFIC

Allan Weikert, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Merwin D. Weikert, Gettysburg R. 5, is now spending a 30-day leave with his parents—the first time he has been home.

A radarman first class, young Weikert volunteered early in 1942 and was called to active duty March 10 of that year. He took his boot training at Newport, R. I. and from there went to radio school in New York city.

ALUMNI COUNCIL COMMITTEES FOR YEAR ARE NAMED

Standing committees for the school year were appointed, and a motion was passed calling for the holding of a dance during the Christmas holidays, at the fall meeting Tuesday evening of the Gettysburg high school alumni association at the YWCA.

President J. Herbert Raymond presided and the other business concerned a report on the last spring's entertainment-dance and a discussion of other possible programs for the association during the fall and winter. Five dollars was voted to the YWCA for the use of its rooms for association meetings.

Announcement was made also that the group had given $40 toward the placing of additional names on the honor roll at the high school.

Choose Dance Committee

A motion also was passed recommending that the alumni association support the activities of the recreation committee in Gettysburg.

Arrangements for the Christmas dance were placed in the hands of the social committee of which Mrs. Anna Seaton Esherhart is chairman. Other members are Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Messner, Perry Taverner, Mrs. Sara Black Gideon, Mrs. Edna Zinkand Hartzell, John Clapsaddle and Charles Weaver.

Members of the nominating committee include Meritt Little, chairman; Miss Shirley Larkin, Robert Bream, Miss Margaret Peters, Arthur E. Hutchison, Mrs. Helen Seaton Hachman, Miss Grace Spangler and Mrs. Doris Lippé Brosius.

Other Committees

The finance committee was appointed as follows: Carl Menchey, chairman; Charles Oeder, Luther McDonnell, Miss Martha Furner, Mrs. Mildred Dougherty Kitzmiller, Miss Alice Williams, Mrs. Bernice Strausbaugh Soley and Ralph Orler.

Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler was named chairman of the scholarship committee, with these other members: Miss Ruth Spangler, Miss Mary Yeagy, John H. Bashore, Mrs. Nell Ramey Spangler.

Publicity committee members are headed by Chairman Hugh C. McIlhenney and include Mrs. Trera Weikert Ziegler, Milton Remmel and James L. Hafer.

There was no treasurer's report. Approximately 25 members of the association were present.

58 Vessels, 89 Planes Wrecked In Daring Raid

By The Associated Press

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 11—On the boldest naval stroke of the Pacific war, struck 200 miles south of Japan, the free-roving American Third Fleet defied both Nippon's home fleet and airforce by pouring carrier planes in overpowering strength against the Ryukyu islands.

As the climax of powerful blows delivered since August 30 in the Philippines, Palau and Bonins, Adm. William F. Halsey's task force wiped out 89 planes and sank or damaged 58 surface craft—every vessel sighted—in the Ryukyus, 500 miles from the China coast, on Monday.

Not one American warship was hit by the enemy in an operation which, in ways, was more daring than the 1942 carrier-based strike at Tokyo inasmuch as the carrier in that case retired while the planes flew on to China. In Monday's strike, Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carriers stayed around for the raiders' return.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announcing the Ryukyu raid in a communique yesterday, said the planes swept over the 570-mile-long chain "in great force." They shot down 14 planes, wiped out 75 on the ground and could find no warship bigger than a destroyer. It was among 12 definitely sunk. Japan's home fleet kept out of sight and the home-based airforce did not wing to Ryukyu's aid.

No U. S. Ships Damaged

Mitscher's task force raids, which have overwhelmed such strategic areas as Manila, have resulted since August in knocking out more than 1,100 enemy planes and 500 surface craft ranging from destroyers and big cargo vessels down to luggers.

In all these raids not a warship has been damaged.

Yesterday's communique on the Ryukyu raid said, "there was no damage to our surface ships and our plane losses were light."

Overwhelm Isle

Significantly in demonstrating how the American fleet can disperse its units in strength, this blow fell one day after battleships spent all day Sunday blowing to bits the Japanese defenses on Marcus island, more than 1,500 miles east of the Ryukyus.

In another communique last night, Nimitz announced that 81st Division troops which invaded a tenth island in the Palau Sunday completely secured it within 24 hours. It is the tiny island of Peleliu. The 10 islands and islets provide the Yanks with an expanding base within 515 miles of the Philippines.

Three hundred miles south of the Philippines at "Invaded, Morotai, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, fighter planes and torpedo boats broke up an enemy attempt earlier this week to reinforce Japanese remnants holding out against American forces which landed September 15.

Nazis Refuse To Surrender; Yanks To Destroy Aachen

(By The Associated Press)

London, Oct. 11—Massed American big guns and dive bombers opened an assault to destroy Aachen today after its commander rejected a surrender-or die ultimatum.

Heavy 8-inch guns, 155-mm. long toms, and 165-mm. rifles thundered in an obliterating barrage and bombers hurtled down on the surrounded city. By refusing to accept the 24-hour ultimatum for unconditional surrender or complete destruction, the German commander had sealed the doom of the city and its 150,000 SS troops.

Guns roared the first salvoes at noon, an hour and 10 minutes after the expiration of the ultimatum.

As a test case, Aachen indicated the Nazi leadership will see its cities destroyed rather than yield today.

Some Surrender

White flags appeared over many of the ancient buildings of Aachen before the ultimatum expired, but they apparently were hung by civilians. Hundreds of civilians and a handful of troops moved under truce flags to American lines, but these came from outlying portions of the city away from the immediate control of the enemy garrison.

It was estimated that 15,000 civilians, hiding in cellars of the already badly-damaged city, remained of Aachen's 165,000 prewar population.

Berlin asserted that the Americans surrounding Aachen had not made "appreciable progress," adding: "A full defensive victory was scored despite strong employment of enemy tanks, 39 of which were destroyed." A DNB report said fierce fighting continued north of Aachen and that American troops had pushed forward to Bardeneburg. Aachen, Germany's first major homeland city to be invested in this war, provided the first real test of whether the Germans are willing to see their cities destroyed or by one in carrying out Hitler's orders to fight to the death.

Street Fighting

House to house fighting is in progress in Malzevles les Metz. East of Lunerville our troops in the Forest de Parroy have advanced about 1,500 yards. East of Epinal, our positions were improved despite increased enemy artillery fire.

After hard fighting in Le Thillot sector our troops established a substantial bridgehead across the Moselle river. Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy. Several strongpoints near Le Thillot have been taken against stiff resistance. The forests of Longuepierre and Gehan have been largely mopped up.

Progress has been made in the Champagne region west of Bel-fort.

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—The commander of the German Fifth Infantry Division in Italy has ordered his troops "never to ride or walk alone in patriot territory."

SOROPTIMISTS NAME MRS. PAPE NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. Eva Pape, vice president of the Soroptimist club of Gettysburg, was advanced to the presidency Tuesday evening after the club accepted the resignation of Mrs. Florence Basehor Schriver, who was married Tuesday morning in Washington. The former Miss Basehor of Littleton had been installed as club president recently.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Berger, Carlisle street, with 19 present. The report of the treasurer was given and standing committees' reports were approved. A budget for the coming year, submitted by the finance committee, was adopted.

Miss Julia Peters was named the new finance committee chairman, succeeding Mrs. Pape.

Mrs. Fred Griest, Mrs. Guyon Buehler and Mrs. John Bachensky were appointed as delegates from the local club to attend the fall convention of Soroptimist clubs at the Claridge hotel in Atlantic City, October 21 and 22.

Halloween Party

Mrs. Frederic E. Griest reported for the USO committee and plans were made for the local clubwomen to act as hostesses for a "coffee hour" at Camp Ritchie, November 19. Mrs. Elizabeth Grieb reported for the civic and welfare committee.

The next dinner meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Griest, October 24, in the form of a Halloween party with games and prizes. A white elephant sale also will be conducted and members were asked to bring articles for sale. The committee in charge of the Halloween party plans includes Mrs. C. T. Ziegler, Mrs. Griest and Miss Mary Ramer.

The next business meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Mae Beales, November 7.

Bond Drive Group At Special Meeting

Eight members of the Adams county War Finance committee will go to Harrisburg this evening to attend a dinner meeting and regional conference of the Pennsylvania War Finance committee at the Penn-Harris hotel at 5:30 o'clock.

The business will include an informal discussion of plans and procedures for the Sixth War Loan Drive which opens November 20.

County committee members who will attend include: Edmund W. Thomas, chairman; Paul Thomas, chairman of labor division; Stanislaus Krichen, McSherrytown, vice-chairman of the labor division; Paul L. Roy, publicity chairman; E. W. Weaver, chairman of the agriculture division; Mrs. Henry T. Bream, chairman of the women's division; Mrs. Guile W. Lefever, co-chairman of the women's division and Lloyd W. Kuhn, Bendersville, chairman of the banking division.

LEAGUE NAMES COMMITTEES AT OPENING MEET

The Woman's league of Gettysburg college held its opening meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon at Christ Lutheran church with the new president, Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, presiding. A committee was named to serve for the convention of the General League which will be held in Gettysburg November 2 and 3.

Mrs. Charles H. Smith and Mrs. Walter Africa were elected delegates to represent the local league with Mrs. William D. Hartshorne and Mrs. Russell A. Campbell as alternates. Miss Louise Bender was appointed chairman of a committee which will have charge of the sale of tickets for the banquet which will be held Friday evening, November 3, at 6:30 o'clock at St. James Lutheran church. Reservations for the banquet at $1.25 per plate must be made at least one week before the banquet.

Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely was appointed chairman of a Pages committee and Mrs. Henry T. Bream and Mrs. Earl E. Ziegler, registrars.

3 New Members

The Thursday morning session of the convention will be held in the Student Christian Association building on the college campus, the afternoon session at Christ Lutheran church, and the Friday morning meeting at the SCA Building.

The names of Mrs. Taylor Pennington, Mrs. Pearl Sadler and Mrs. Loretta Deatrack were added to the League's membership roll.

Mrs. Kramer appointed Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Mrs. A. R. Wentz and Mrs. John Fischer members of the auditing committee. Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh was appointed chairman of the membership committee and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh chairman of a committee to sell brass polish.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" led by Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, with Mrs. Fred K. Schwartz at the piano. Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer conducted the devotional period.

Included on the program was a vocal duet "I Waited for the Lord" by Mendelssohn, sung by Miss Marian Fish and Miss Dorothy Moss. Miss Elsie Hartzell played the accompaniment. The three young ladies are students at Gettysburg college.

The chapter is making plans for special celebration of its second anniversary on November 15.

Writes Letter Three Days After He's Reported Missing

What appears to be a case of mistaken identity was revealed this morning in the case of a Gettysburg soldier reported missing in action. The conflict develops in a War Department telegram and a letter from the soldier reported missing.

Ten days ago Mrs. Thomas S. Ziegler, Baltimore street, received a letter from her husband, Cpl. Thomas S. Ziegler, written from the Italian battlefield, dated September 20, stating that he was in action in the Allied battle to crack the German defense line in northern Italy into the Po valley. Corporal Ziegler stated he was well.

This morning Mrs. Ziegler received a telegram from the War Department stating her husband was reported missing in action on September 17, three days before Private Ziegler wrote to his wife.

The War Department is being advised of the conflict in the dates and is being asked to make a further

Funeral services from the late home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longacker, of Gettysburg. Interment in Greenmount cemetery, Arendtsville.

Friends may call at the home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

Ladies Are Guests Of Rotary Club

Ladies' night was observed by the Gettysburg Rotary club Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting held at the Hoffman orphanage. Sixty Rotarians and guests attended.

Featured on the program was a motion picture of the campaign in North Africa, showing the turn of battle and the drive of Montgomery's forces against Rommel's North Africa Corps. The battles to Tunis were shown, and depicted the battle formations employed by Montgomery and the extent to which air power and artillery were used in support of the infantry attacks.

Mrs. Trayer Howe, of Fayetteville, played several accordion selections. Prof. Dunning Idie led the singing with Mrs. Paul Kinsey acting as accompanist.

President Walter T. Africa presided.

ALUMNI COUNCIL COMMITTEES FOR YEAR ARE NAMED

Standing committees for the school year were appointed, and a motion was passed calling for the holding of a dance during the Christmas holidays, at the fall meeting Tuesday evening of the Gettysburg high school alumni association at the YWCA.

President J. Herbert Raymond presided and the other business concerned a report on the last spring's entertainment-dance and a discussion of other possible programs for the association during the fall and winter. Five dollars was voted to the YWCA for the use of its rooms for association meetings.

Announcement was made also that the group had given $40 toward the placing of additional names on the honor roll at the high school.

Choose Dance Committee

A motion also was passed recommending that the alumni association support the activities of the recreation committee in Gettysburg.

Arrangements for the Christmas dance were placed in the hands of the social committee of which Mrs. Anna Sefton Eisenhart is chairman. Other members are Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Messner, Perry Tawney, Mrs. Sara Black Gideon, Mrs. Edna Zinkand Hartzell, John Clapsaddle and Charles Weaver.

Members of the nominating committee include Melvin Little, chairman; Miss Shirley Larkin, Robert Bream, Miss Margaret Peters, Arthur E. Hutchison, Mrs. Helen Sefton Hacheln, Miss Grace Spangler and Mrs. Doris Lippy Brosius.

Other Committees

The finance committee was appointed as follows: Carl Menchey, chairman; Charles Ogden, Luther McDonnell, Miss Martha Furney, Mrs. Mildred Dougherty Kitzmiller, Miss Alice Williams, Mrs. Bernice Strausbaugh Staley and Ralph Oyer.

Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler was named chairman of the scholarship committee, with these other members: Miss Ruth Spangler, Milo Diehl, Mrs. Eva Walter Oyer, Miss Mary Yeagly, John H. Basehor, Mrs. Nell Mehring Hartman and Mrs. Nell Ramer Spangler.

Publicity committee members are headed by Chairman Hugh C. McIlhenny and include Mrs. Treva Weikert Ziegler, Milton Remmel and James L. Hafer.

There was no treasurer's report. Approximately 25 members of the association were present.

By The Associated Press

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 11—On the boldest naval stroke of the Pacific war, struck 200 miles south of Japan, the free-roving American Third Fleet defied both Nippon's home fleet and airforce by pouring carrier planes in overpowering strength against the Ryukyu islands.

As the climax of powerful blows delivered since August 30 in the Philippines, Palau and Bonins, Adm. William F. Halsey's task force wiped out 89 planes and sank or damaged 58 surface craft—every vessel sighted—in the Ryukyus, 500 miles from the China coast, on Monday.

Not one American warship was hit by the enemy in an operation which, in ways, was more daring than the 1942 carrier-based strike at Tokyo inasmuch as the carrier in that case retired while the planes flew on to China. In Monday's strike, Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carriers stayed around for the raiders' return.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announcing the Ryukyu raid in a communique yesterday, said the planes swept over the 570-mile-long chain "in great force." They shot down 14 planes, wiped out 75 on the ground and could find no warship bigger than a destroyer. It was among 12 definitely sunk. Japan's home fleet kept out of sight and the home-based airforce did not wing to Ryukyu's aid.

No U. S. Ships Damaged

Mitscher's task force raids, which have overwhelmed such strategic areas as Manila, have resulted since August in knocking out more than 1,100 enemy planes and 500 surface craft ranging from destroyers and big cargo vessels down to luggers. In all these raids not a warship has been damaged.

Yesterday's communique on the Ryukyu raid said, "there was no damage to our surface ships and our plane losses were light."

Overwhelm Isle

Significantly in demonstrating how the American fleet can disperse its units in strength, this blow fell one day after battleships spent all day Sunday blowing to bits the Japanese defenses on Marcus island, more than 1,500 miles east of the Ryukyus.

In another communique last night, Nimitz announced that 81st Division troops which invaded a tenth island in the Palau Sunday completely secured it within 24 hours. It is the tiny island of Pellelu. The 10 islands and islets provide the Yanks with an expanding base within 515 miles of the Philippines.

Three hundred miles south of the Philippines at Invaded Morotai, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, fighter planes and patrol-torpedo boats broke up an enemy attempt earlier this week to reinforce Japanese remnants holding out against American forces which landed September 15.

Nazis Refuse To Surrender; Yanks To Destroy Aachen

(By The Associated Press)

London, Oct. 11—Massed American big guns and dive bombers opened an assault to destroy Aachen today after its commander rejected a surrender-or die ultimatum.

Heavy 8-inch guns, 155-mm long toms, and 105-mm-rifles thundered in an obliterating barrage and bombers hurtled down on the surrounded city. By refusing to accept the 24-hour ultimatum for unconditional surrender or complete destruction, the German commander had sealed the doom of the city and its 1,500 SS troops.

Guns lost the first salvoes at noon, an hour and 10 minutes after the expiration of the ultimatum.

As a test case, Aachen indicated the Nazi leadership will see its cities destroyed rather than yield today.

Some Surrender

White flags appeared over many of the ancient buildings of Aachen before the ultimatum expired, but they apparently were hung by civilians. Hundreds of civilians and a handful of troops moved under truce flags to American lines, but these came from outlying portions of the city away from the immediate control of the enemy garrison.

It was estimated that 15,000 civilians, hiding in cellars of the already badly-damaged city, remained of Aachen's 165,000 prewar population.

Berlin asserted that the Americans surrounding Aachen had not made "appreciable progress," adding: "A full defensive victory was scored despite strong employment of enemy tanks, 39 of which were destroyed." A DNB report said fierce fighting continued north of Aachen and that American troops had pushed forward to Bardenberg.

Aachen, Germany's first major homeland city to be invested in this war, provided the first real test of whether the Germans are willing to see their cities destroyed one by one in carrying out Hitler's orders to fight to the death.

Street Fighting

House to house fighting is in progress in Maizieres les Metz. East of Luneville our troops in the Forest de Parroy have advanced about 1,500 yards. East of Epinal, our positions were improved despite increased enemy artillery fire.

After hard fighting in Le Thillot sector our troops established a substantial bridgehead across the Moselle river. Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy. Several strongpoints near Le Thillot have been taken against stiff resistance. The forests of Longueotte and Gehan have been largely mopped up.

Progress has been made in the Champagne region west of Bel-

Yanks Escape Pillbox Trap Despite Nazi Flamethrowers

At the Siegfried Line, Oct. 5 (Delayed) (AP)—It was just before midnight. American troops guarding the forward breaches in Germany's Siegfried line shivered sleepily in the chill foxholes, soppy with rain.

The Nazis picked this disagreeable hour to launch a heavy artillery barrage preliminary to a night counterattack.

The fire concentration became so heavy that Staff Sgt. Richard Sorensen of Chicago, knew he would have to find shelter for his 57 MM. gun crew.

Nearly an abandoned enemy pillbox loomed dully and dimly, a grey mass in the black shadow. Sorensen led his men inside and they crouched behind the thick concrete walls until the barrage lifted.

Trapped by Nazis

As they started to leave they heard someone outside the door. It turned out to be a 30-man German assault team assigned to destroy the pillbox. Sorensen and his men, feeling something like turtles being pawed by a bear, immediately began defending it.

Sorensen's men leaped forward to close the steel blinds covering the embrasures but before they did so a German Muser poked its nose in and began spitting. It missed.

As enemy "burr guns" rattled scores of bullets against the blinds, other Nazis tried to force the door.

Last-Minute Rescue

The enemy then brought up two flamethrowers. As twin, searing blasts hit the steel door Sorensen and his boys decided they had about lost their little game of hide and seek. They had nothing to fight flamethrowers.

Just as the enemy was about to burn his way through, however, a group of doughboys returning to positions they had left during the barrage caught the Nazis and opened fire. The survivors ran back through the night toward the Germans' lines and a few seconds later the squad of 57 MM. gunners stumbled out of the pillbox they had thought would be their grave.

"The only difference was that every one of us sweated off about 30 pounds in weight in there," said Sorensen. "I never was so glad in my life to hit fresh air."

Chased Five Times

Lt. George R. Lescallier of Columbus, Ohio, a mortar observer for a heavy weapons company, knows how it feels to be a duck in a shooting gallery.

Five times in one day he was chased from an observation post by enemy fire. First he picked a house overlooking enemy positions, but snipers' bullets forced him to move to a high garden wall.

Machinegun fire from hidden Germans made that unhealthy. He chose another house. The Nazis banged in a 170 MM. shell and set it afire.

6th Try Successful

The lieutenant began digging an observation post on the side of a hill. The enemy sent shells whistling past him before he had removed more than four shovelfuls of dirt.

Philosophically reminding himself that no war is perfect he established his fifth observation post in an old schoolhouse. Mortar shells immediately started popping on the roof and into the yard.

A little wearily this time the lieutenant climbed into his sixth observation post of the day — a knocked out tank. There the Germans finally let him alone and he rounded out his tour of duty in peace.

MRS. BLOCHER DIES TUESDAY

Mrs. S. May Blocher, 79, widow of Frank D. Blocher, died at the Riverside Manor Rest home, 2201 North Front street, Harrisburg, Tuesday evening from infirmities of age. She has been in failing health for some time and had been at the rest home for four months.

Mrs. Blocher was born in New Oxford, a daughter of the late Jeremiah W. and Isabelle E. (Albright) Diehl. She resided in Gettysburg for the last 70 years and was a member of St. James Lutheran church and the Missionary society of the church. Her husband died March 30, 1920.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Nell K. Blocher, professor of education at Hood college, Frederick, and Mrs. Edmund L. Menges, Huntingdon; three sisters, Miss Annie Diehl, East Middle street; Mrs. George M. Diffenderfer, Carlisle and Mrs. C. C. Bream, East Middle street, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services from the Bender home Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

BOARD REVISES CALENDAR FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Members of the Gettysburg school board at their October meeting Tuesday evening adopted a revised calendar for the current school year which shortens the Easter vacation to one day and sets June 8 for the closing of the borough schools.

The revised calendar was made necessary because the opening of the schools here was delayed nine days by the polo control measures imposed by the local health authorities.

The directors heard from Superintendent L. C. Keefe that the majority of the high school pupils favor the shortened noon hour and earlier closing time in the afternoon.

Like Short Noon Hour

The superintendent disclosed that in a recent poll of students at the high school Gettysburg pupils voted 206 to 65 in favor of continuation of the shortened noon recess and non-resident pupils, 171 to 53.

The superintendent told the board also that the regular physical inspection of the local school pupils has been started by the school district physician, Dr. Raymond F. Sheely. The examinations were begun in the first grade. Doctor Sheely spends each Tuesday afternoon in the schools.

The directors renewed their annual dues to the state school directors' association and heard routine reports from Director Charles S. Black, chairman of the property committee, on minor improvements and repair to various school properties.

R. Z. Oyer Presides

The report of the school district treasurer, the First National bank, showed that district has a balance of $65,695 in the general fund. Expenditures last month amounted to $10,695. Chief receipt item last month was $33,401 from Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert on the 1944 duplicate. The sinking fund balance is $486.

The monthly cafeteria report showed the high school lunch department was operated at a profit of $101.73 last month.

A number of other school district matters came before the board for discussion and consideration but no final action was taken. All members of the board attended the meeting with President Ralph Z. Oyer presiding. The other members are Mahlon P. Hartzell, Charles M. Sheely, Paul M. Rohrbaugh, A. E. Hutchison, Charles H. Bender and Charles S. Black.

The board members voted their thanks to Directors Bender and Black who were hosts to the directors and G. W. Lefever, high school principal, and Hugh C. McIlhenry of The Gettysburg Times at dinner at the Green Parrot tea room at Emmitsburg before the meeting Tuesday evening.

Corporal Ziegler entered service in September, 1943, and has been overseas since February of this year. He was assigned to the infantry.

Suspect Mistake

Friends of Corporal Ziegler, former operator of a gasoline service station at the corner of East Lincoln avenue and the Harrisburg road, are encouraged and are of the belief that the War Department has made a mistake in identification and that the local man is still alive and with his unit in Italy. They point to the three days' difference in the date as reported in the War Department telegram and the letter received by Mrs. Ziegler as being of sufficient proof that it is a case of mistaken identification, a not unusual case. There have been many similar incidents wherein the War Department as well as the Navy Department have erred, unintentionally.

Corporal Ziegler entered service in September, 1943, and has been overseas since February of this year. He was assigned to the infantry.

Suspect Mistake

Friends of Corporal Ziegler, former operator of a gasoline service station at the corner of East Lincoln avenue and the Harrisburg road, are encouraged and are of the belief that the War Department has made a mistake in identification and that the local man is still alive and with his unit in Italy. They point to the three days' difference in the date as reported in the War Department telegram and the letter received by Mrs. Ziegler as being of sufficient proof that it is a case of mistaken identification, a not unusual case. There have been many similar incidents wherein the War Department as well as the Navy Department have erred, unintentionally.

Writes Letter Three Days After He's Reported Missing

What appears to be a case of mistaken identity was revealed this morning in the case of a Gettysburg soldier reported missing in action. The conflict develops in a War Department telegram and a letter from the soldier reported missing.

Ten days ago Mrs. Thomas S. Ziegler, Baltimore street, received a letter from her husband, Cpl. Thomas S. Ziegler, written from the Italian battlefield, dated September 20, stating that he was in action in the Allied battle to crack the German defense line in northern Italy into the Po valley. Corporal Ziegler stated he was well.

This morning Mrs. Ziegler received a telegram from the War Department stating her husband was reported missing in action on September 17, three days before Private Ziegler wrote to his wife.

The War Department is being advised of the conflict in the dates and is being asked to make a further check for confirmation and correction.

Corporal Ziegler entered service in September, 1943, and has been overseas since February of this year. He was assigned to the infantry.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 11—On the boldest naval stroke of the Pacific war, struck 200 miles south of Japan, the free-roving American Third Fleet defied both Nippon's home fleet and airforce by pouring carrier planes in overpowering strength against the Ryukyu islands.

As the climax of powerful blows delivered since August 30 in the Philippines, Palau and Bonins, Adm. William F. Halsey's task force wiped out 89 planes and sank or damaged 58 surface craft—every vessel sighted—in the Ryukyus, 500 miles from the China coast, on Monday.

Not one American warship was hit by the enemy in an operation which, in ways, was more daring than the 1942 carrier-based strike at Tokyo inasmuch as the carrier in that case retired while the planes flew on to China. In Monday's strike, Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carriers stayed around for the raiders' return.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announcing the Ryukyu raid in a communique yesterday, said the planes swept over the 570-mile-long chain "in great force." They shot down 14 planes, wiped out 75 on the ground and could find no warship bigger than a destroyer. It was among 12 definitely sunk. Japan's home fleet kept out of sight and the home-based airforce did not wing to Ryukyu's aid.

No U. S. Ships Damaged

Mitscher's task force raids, which have overwhelmed such strategic areas as Manila, have resulted since August in knocking out more than 1,100 enemy planes and 500 surface craft ranging from destroyers and big cargo vessels down to luggers.

In all these raids not a warship has been damaged.

Yesterday's communique on the Ryukyu raid said, "there was no damage to our surface ships and our plane losses were light."

Overwhelm Isle

Significantly in demonstrating how the American fleet can disperse its units in strength, this blow fell one day after battleships spent all day Sunday blowing to bits the Japanese defenses on Marcus island, more than 1,500 miles east of the Ryukyus.

In another communique last night, Nimitz announced that 81st Division troops which invaded a tenth island in the Palau Sunday completely secured it within 24 hours. It is the tiny island of Peleliu. The 10 islands and islets provide the Yanks with an expanding base within 515 miles of the Philippines.

Three hundred miles south of the Philippines at Invaded Morotai, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, fighter planes and patrol-torpedo boats broke up an enemy attempt earlier this week to reinforce Japanese remnants holding out against American forces which landed September 15.

DONALD DAME TO APPEAR IN CONCERT HERE

Donald Dame, Metropolitan Opera association tenor and a member of the Columbia all star opera quartet, will be one of the artists who will appear here this winter under the auspices of the Gettysburg Concert association. It was announced today.

Mr. Dame has a notable record of achievement in opera, oratorio and recital, and as a soloist with symphony orchestras on the radio. In April, 1943, he made his New York debut in Town Hall and was hailed by critics as one of the outstanding tenors of the newcomers. However, prior to this he had sung extensively in various cities in the country.

A native of Cleveland, Donald Dame studied at Western Reserve university and at the Juillard School of Music. Since beginning his professional career he has sung the lead in more than 15 operas at the Worcester festival, with the Cleveland opera, the Chautauqua opera, Trenton opera and elsewhere. He sang the tenor lead in radio's American Opera festival and has appeared in a number of operettas. He sings each Sunday with the "Music for an Hour" program over WOR.

Check-up Today

Two other artists who will appear here this winter will be announced next week.

Volunteer workers enrolling members in the local association this year will make their check-up report today at the association's headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg. The lobby office will be open until 9 p. m. to receive reports. Workers who are unable to report in person are urged to phone their membership totals before 9 o'clock tonight. The telephone number is Gettysburg 577.

Six workers this morning reported 81 members enrolled. However, more than 70 workers had not reported up to noon and association officers believe that a substantial part of the 550 members will have been enrolled when all the workers make their initial report today.

Plan Party For Presbyterian S.S.

Plans for a Halloween party for the pupils of the Presbyterian Sunday school were laid Tuesday evening at the October meeting of the officers and teachers of the school which followed a covered dish supper at the church. Superintendent E. Donald Scott presided. The party is to be held October 27.

Mrs. S. A. Messner was elected teacher of a new class in the junior department of the school and Mrs. Robert M. Hunt was named as a teacher in the beginners' department. Mrs. Harold J. Pegg was appointed chairman of the committee to arrange for a Christmas program for the school.

Changing the regular meeting night from the second to the third Tuesday, the group accepted an invitation to meet November 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road.

After the business session the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor, showed a slide lecture on "How to Improve Your Teaching."

Rites Are Held For Miss McCurdy

Funeral services for Miss Grace McCurdy, 79, former resident of Gettysburg who died Sunday at State College, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Evergreen cemetery as the family plot. The Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church, officiated.

The pallbearers were Raymond F. Topper, Esq., Francis R. Egan, Esq., Arthur R. Bunker and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Miss McCurdy was the last sister of the late Charles M. McCurdy, former cashier of the Gettysburg National bank, a former president of the Gettysburg Water company and retired telephone banker. Mrs. McCurdy died September 29, 1932 and was buried here.

YARN ARRIVES FOR RED CROSS

Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, announced this morning that another supply of yarn had been received at the chapter offices, Baltimore street, for the knitting of soldier and sailor sweaters, scarves and helmets.

The wool is available for knitters who will make the Navy scarves, and helmets and gloves, scarves and various types of sweaters for the soldiers. Types of sweaters needed include the turtle-neck sweater with long sleeves, and the V-neck sweater both long and short sleeve patterns.

Miss McMillan also announced the fifth shipment from the local office of fur coats and other fur items to the fur vest projects for merchant seamen, in New York city. The furs are used by the industry to make the warm vests for merchant seamen of the Allied merchant marine fleets and all work on the project is done free of charge. Persons who donate furs for the work will receive certificates of commendation.

Another shipment of woolen knit goods also is going out this week, Miss McMillan reported. The items are being sent in three different groups to various Red Cross centers for transfer. Included in the shipments are 13 Army sleeveless sweaters, three Navy scarves, five Navy turtle-neck sweaters, 22 Navy watch caps, two afghans, 36 Army gloves, 34 Army helmets and 19 Army mufflers.

BULLETINS

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The East Prussian port of Memel is surrounded by Russian troops who have reached the Baltic sea north and south of the city, the Berlin radio announced late today.

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—A blackout overprint on envelopes mailed by the Navy Athletic Association, deleting the words "at Annapolis" as the site for the Army-Navy football game December 2, prompted speculation today that the big service game might go to a big town after all. But the Navy promptly stated in response to inquiry that the game will be played at the Naval academy—as scheduled.

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—Where is Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's U. S. Ninth Army? Severe with which Allied headquarters is surrounding this fighting force has left its movements and probable present location a matter of conjecture on both sides of the western front. Its whereabouts, when finally made known, may be the key to Allied strategy—the master plan to deliver a final knockout blow to Germany.

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—The high court of justice trying the former governor of the bank of Italy, Vincenzo Azzolini, for his life rejected today his plea to postpone the case on the grounds that key witnesses are in north Italy and unavailable.

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The German radio reported Allied bomber formations over western Germany and also over the lower Danube, indicating a scissors play by the U. S. Eighth and 15th Air Forces from Britain and Italy.

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—President Sergio Osmentia of the Philippine government-in-exile has left Washington, presumably to be ready for a quick return to his homeland once General Douglas MacArthur's troops begin the promised liberation of the island commonwealth.

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said today he expected Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the party's presidential candidate to make another speech in Pennsylvania during the campaign, probably in Pittsburgh.

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chinese high command tonight reported a Japanese advance on the west river front toward Kuangsi, Kwangsi province highway junction 70 miles southeast of Lichow.

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—A Chinese cabinet spokesman asserted today that prior to the end of May lend-lease supplies received by the armies in east and south China, totaled 50 anti-tank guns, 60 mountain guns and 30,000 rounds of rifle and machinegun ammunition.

ONE PROPERTY TRANSFER

One deed was entered this morning at the office of Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner at the court house. The lone transfer was from Ralph P. and Hazel Connors, Wilbraham, Massachusetts, to Glenn A. and Dorothy E. Weaver, Hanover. A property of approximately 24 acres in Reading township.

OPA TO PROBE OVERCHARGE ON SOME CLOTHES

A compliance survey aimed at rolling back to the 1941 level prices women's, girls' and children's outerwear apparel is now underway in this "red-county" area, it was announced today by the OPA.

Complaints have been received by the OPA of violations of OPA ceiling prices. Overcharges range from two to five dollars per garment, it was said.

In emphasizing the seriousness of the situation, the OPA pointed out that clothing is a principal factor in the cost of living and the price line must be held for this reason.

Retailers are required to file signed pricing charts in duplicate with the district OPA office on or before October 15, covering women's, girls' and children's outerwear. These charts must be computed from actual sales records during the base pricing period which, in most instances, is the last five months of 1941.

Close OPA Check

Preparation of these pricing charts is not new. Retailers have been required to keep them available for OPA inspection since September 1943. The charts now to be filed, however, will be closely examined by OPA and, if accepted, will be acknowledged. Action will be taken against retailers failing to file the charts by October 15.

Retailers who have gone into the business of selling women's, girls' and children's outerwear since May 13, 1944, must file application for authorization to establish maximum prices. This application must be filed with the OPA on or before October 15. It is expected that the filing of these price charts, and a close check that will follow, will contribute largely toward full compliance in apparel stores since retailers will be fully cognizant of the latest pricing requirements.

Expect Bumper Crop Of Food

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—The nation now is past the critical stage of war production, says War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

This year's crops may rank with those of 1942 as the greatest ever produced in this country, the crop reporting board said, unless bad weather interferes with harvesting.

Indications are that the corn crop will be the largest ever produced in the United States, the board said, as it increased its September estimate by 95,000,000 bushels and forecast a crop of 3,200,000,000 bushels. That figure would exceed the 1942 record by 65,000,000 bushels.

Wheat production was forecast at 1,108,331,000 bushels, a drop of 6,500,000, under the September estimate but still the largest on record.

Seek Acquittal For Mrs. Andrews

Salinas, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—Defense attorneys expected to use the greater part of today in final arguments asking an acquittal verdict for 37-year-old Mrs. Frances Andrews, Pennsylvania oil heiress on trial for the murder of Jay Lovett, her young farm boy neighbor.

Attorney Leo Friedman talked for five hours yesterday in Mrs. Andrews' defense. He attacked what he called bungling of law enforcement officers in investigating the case and argued that Lovett could have died by suicide, accident, or murder by someone other than the defendant.

He declared that the district attorney had characterized a quiet country boy as a Casanova to introduce a jealousy motive, saying: "The picture of the dead boy placed before you was that of an Adonis—a Casanova with lots of sex appeal—irresistible to women; a boy who went up and down the Carmel valley seducing various ladies."

He said testimony brought out that Lovett was "quiet, thoughtful, and marmey."

Lovett, 19, was found near Mrs. Andrews' house the night of last July 15, shot through the head with Mrs. Andrews' pistol.

Two Campaign Stars

That course at Miami, completed, Weikert shipped to the Pacific through the Panama canal and landed with his outfit at Sidney, Australia, Easter Sunday, 1943.

While serving in the Pacific waters on a 110-foot sub-chaser with a crew of about 30 men, Weikert shipped to practically all of the famous island battlefields, his ship being ordered to the positions with the vanguard of the invasion forces.

His Pacific-Asiatic theater of war ribbon has two stars, one for the New Guinea operations and the other for the campaign on the Bismarck archipelago.

Chased Jap Subs

On one trip, when assigned to combat action with amphibious forces, several ships in the flotilla, including his, struck a coral reef in heavy weather in the Coral sea about 120 miles off Australia. The ships were stuck on the reef for 12 hours when they were pulled off by other ships at high tide and returned to Australia for repairs. One of the ships was sunk in striking the reef.

Although he never was engaged in actual combat action, his ship attacked with depth charges a number of Jap submarines. Weikert reported that he was seasick only once during his whole tour of duty.

He graduated from Gettysburg high school with the class of 1939. At the completion of his leave he will report for duty on the Pacific coast. He expects to be assigned to a larger ship.

York Springs Man Signs Guilty Plea

Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder reported today that Roy G. Miller, York Springs, signed a plea of guilty Tuesday to a charge of selling beer without a license, after information to that effect had been filed with Snyder by enforcement officers of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board.

Miller was held for the November sentence court. The charges were laid by C. E. Seesholtz who carried out investigations with N. L. Hunter and J. P. Yoke. The officers said they had purchased beer from Miller on Sunday. The illegal sales took place in a garage located behind York Springs and Hampden, Snyder said.

DONALD DAME TO APPEAR IN CONCERT HERE

Donald Dame, Metropolitan Opera association tenor and a member of the Columbia all star opera quartet, will be one of the artists who will appear here this winter under the auspices of the Gettysburg Concert association, it was announced today.

Mr. Dame has a notable record of achievement in opera, oratorio and recital, and as a soloist with symphony orchestras on the radio. In April, 1943, he made his New York recital debut in Town Hall and was hailed by critics as one of the outstanding tenors of the newcomers. However, prior to this he had sung extensively in various cities in the country.

A native of Cleveland, Donald Dame studied at Western Reserve university and at the Juillard School of Music. Since beginning his professional career he has sung the lead in more than 15 operas at the Worcester festival, with the Cleveland opera, the Chautauqua opera, Trenton opera and elsewhere. He sang the tenor lead in radio's American Opera festival and has appeared in a number of operettas. He sings each Sunday with the "Music for an Hour" program over WOR.

Check-up Today
Two other artists who will appear here this winter will be announced next week.

Volunteer workers enrolling members in the local association this year will make their check-up report today at the association's headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg. The lobby office will be open until 9 p. m. to receive reports. Workers who are unable to report in person are urged to phone their membership totals before 9 o'clock tonight. The telephone number is Gettysburg 677.

Six workers this morning reported 81 members enrolled. However, more than 70 workers had not reported up to noon and association officers believe that a substantial part of the 550 members will have been enrolled when all the workers make their initial report today.

Plan Party For Presbyterian S.S.

Plans for a Halloween party for the pupils of the Presbyterian Sunday school were laid Tuesday evening at the October meeting of the officers and teachers of the school which followed a covered dish supper at the church. Superintendent E. Donald Scott presided. The party is to be held October 27.

Mr. S. A. Messner was elected teacher of a new class in the junior department of the school and Mrs. Robert M. Hunt was named as a teacher in the beginners' department. Mrs. Harold J. Pegg was appointed chairman of the committee to arrange for a Christmas program for the school.

Changing the regular meeting night from the second to the third Tuesday, the group accepted an invitation to meet November 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road.

After the business session the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor, showed a slide lecture on "How to Improve Your Teaching."

Rites Are Held For Miss McCurdy

Funeral services for Miss Grace McCurdy, 79, former resident of Gettysburg who died Sunday at State College, were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Evergreen cemetery at the family plot. The Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church, officiated.

The pallbearers were Raymond F. Topper, Esq., Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., Arthur R. Buehler and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Miss McCurdy was the last sister of the late Charles M. McCurdy, former cashier of the Gettysburg National bank, a former president of the Gettysburg Water company and retired Bellefonte banker. Mr. McCurdy died September 26, 1938, and was buried here.

Duquesne Pastor Addresses Students

The Rev. Dr. C. W. Baker, pastor of the First Lutheran church at Duquesne, delivered two lectures to students at the Lutheran Theological seminary today on "Visual Education." This morning at 9 o'clock he spoke on "Visualizing the Catechism" and this afternoon at 2:30 on "Conducting Junior Congregations."

This evening at 6:15 and Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock he will talk on "Chalk and Object Teaching."

The addresses are open to the public.

YARN ARRIVES FOR RED CROSS

Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, announced this morning that another supply of yarn had been received at the chapter office, Baltimore street, for the knitting of soldier and sailor sweaters, scarves and helmets.

The wool is available for knitters who will make the Navy scarves, and helmets and gloves, scarves and various types of sweaters for the soldiers. Types of sweaters needed include the turtle-neck sweater with long sleeves, and the V-neck sweater both long and short sleeve patterns.

Miss McMillan also announced the fifth shipment from the local office of fur coats and other fur items to the fur vest projects for merchant seamen, in New York city. The furs are used by the fur industry to make the warm vests for merchant seamen of the Allied merchant marine fleets and all work on the project is done free of charge. Persons who donate furs for the work will receive certificates of commendation.

Another shipment of woolen knit goods also is going out this week, Miss McMillan reported. The items are being sent in three different groups to various Red Cross centers for transfer. Included in the shipments are 13 Army sleeveless sweaters, three Navy scarves, five Navy turtle-neck sweaters, 22 Navy watch caps, two afghans, 36 Army gloves, 34 Army helmets and 19 Army mufflers.

Students Collect 3 Million Tin Cans

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Schools in Pennsylvania collected nearly 3,000,000 prepared tin cans for war use during September, the state Defense Council's Salvage committee said today in announcing war bond prizes for three pupils and citations for two county school superintendents and a school.

Pupils collecting the greatest number of cans received these prizes: $75 first prize, Robert Reinert, Reinerton, Schuylkill county, 30,235 cans; $50 second prize, Clarence Bausum, Pottsville, Schuylkill county, 12,000 cans; $25 third prize, John Hartline, West Lawn, Berks county, 8,305 cans.

Clarence M. Long, county school superintendent in Armstrong county, received a citation for the greatest number of schools participating. St. Patrick's Annex school in Pottsville, averaged 210 cans for each of its 110 pupils, to win the award for the greatest number of cans per pupil.

BULLETINS

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The East Prussian port of Memel is surrounded by Russian troops who have reached the Baltic sea north and south of the city, the Berlin radio announced late today.

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—A blackout overprint on envelopes mailed by the Navy Athletic association, deleting the words "at Annapolis" as the site for the Army-Navy football game December 2, prompted speculation today that the big service game might go to a big town after all. But the Navy promptly stated in response to inquiry that the game will be played at the Naval academy—as scheduled.

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—Where is Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's U. S. Ninth Army? Secrecy with which Allied headquarters is surrounding this fighting force has left its movements and probable present location a matter of conjecture on both sides of the western front. Its whereabouts, when finally made known, may be the key to Allied strategy—the master plan to deliver a final knockout blow to Germany.

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—The high court of justice trying the former governor of the bank of Italy, Vincenzo Azolini, for his life rejected today his plea to postpone the case on the grounds that key witnesses are in north Italy and unavailable.

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The German radio reported Allied bomber formations over western Germany and also over the lower Danube, indicating a scissors play by the U. S. Eighth and 15th Air Forces from Britain and Italy.

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—President Sergio Osmentia of the Philippine government-in-exile has left Washington, presumably to be ready for a quick return to his homeland once General Douglas MacArthur's troops begin the promised liberation of the island commonwealth.

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said today he expected Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the party's presidential candidate to make another speech in Pennsylvania during the campaign, probably in Pittsburgh.

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chinese high command tonight reported a Japanese advance on the west river front toward Kweichow, Kwangsi province highway junction 70 miles southeast of Liuchow.

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Oct. 11 (AP)—West African units, fighting in the southeastern corner of India near the Burmese border, have captured the village of Mowdok, the Allied command disclosed today, dislodging Japanese defenders who had held the area throughout the monsoon season.

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Attorney General James H. Duff today issued an emphatic ruling upholding the legality of the vote cast by a soldier who may die after mailing it for counting at the November general election.

Cleveland, Oct. 11 (AP)—Officials of the Mechanics Educational Society of America (Independent) stood firm today on their threat to tie up 64 war plants in Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey if a Cleveland graphite bronze company dispute is not placed before an arbitration panel.

Chased Jap Subs
On one trip, when assigned to combat action with amphibious forces, several ships in the flotilla, including his, struck a coral reef in heavy weather in the Coral sea about 120 miles off Australia. The ships were stuck on the reef for 12 hours when they were pulled off by other ships at high tide and returned to Australia for repairs. One of the ships was sunk in striking the reef.

Although he never was engaged in actual combat action, his ship attacked with depth charges a number of Jap submarines. Weikert reported that he was seasick only once during his whole tour of duty. He graduated from Gettysburg high school with the class of 1939. At the completion of his leave he will report for duty on the Pacific coast. He expects to be assigned to a larger ship.

Cars Crash On Lincoln Highway

Approximately $310 damage was caused to two cars Tuesday night in an accident approximately one-half mile west of Abbottstown on the Lincoln highway, state police reported this morning.

Police said a car driven by Francis M. Rabine, center square, New Oxford, was struck by an automobile being driven by Heller V. Rife, New Oxford R. 2, as Rife attempted to pass the Rabine vehicle. Rabine is reported to have lost control of his vehicle which traveled approximately 300 feet across the highway and came to rest against a guard rail.

Damage to the Rabine car was estimated at about $300 while the Rife machine was damaged to the extent of $10. No one was injured in the accident.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING HERE

The Adams, Franklin, Fulton and York county council of the American Legion auxiliary will meet Thursday at St. James Lutheran church.

The executive board will meet at 10:30 a. m. and the council session will convene at 11 a. m. when council and unit officers will be installed by Mrs. A. L. Westbrook, director American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Pennsylvania.

The new Gettysburg unit officers will be installed at this time.

Reports on the president and secretaries conference which was held at Harrisburg October 6 will be given. Unit reports will also be made.

At 12:30 o'clock the Maude Miller Bible class of the church will serve a luncheon to the group. Preceding the luncheon, Miss Lena Hart-Jdmw zell, a member of the local unit, will play a group of piano selections.

MUCH CLOTHING IS COLLECTED

The eight Catholic parishes of Adams county collected 13,544 articles during the campaign to obtain clothing for the needy in the liberated countries of Europe, it was announced Tuesday by the Rev. Cyril J. Alwine, assistant at the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown. The Rev. Father Alwine served as area director for the drive.

The campaign was conducted by the parishes in Adams county from September 24 to 30. Churches participating included those in McSherrystown, Littlestown, Gettysburg, Fairfield, Buchanan Valley, Bonneauville, New Oxford and Abbottstown. The clothing will be distributed free in liberated countries.

The Catholic parishes of Adams county received 316 cartons of clothing weighing 10,713 pounds. Included were 1,330 outer coats, 1,552 woolen articles for men and boys, 942 cotton articles for men and boys, 1,974 woolen articles for women and girls, 4,413 cotton articles for women and girls, 2,818 garments for infants, and 168 blankets.

Midway Soldier Wounded Slightly

Pfc. Cyril J. Alwine, 33-year-old infantryman, was slightly wounded in Germany on September 29, according to a telegram from Adjutant General James A. Ullo received by his wife, Mrs. Violet Rickrode Alwine, 213 Third street, Midway, Monday afternoon.

In a letter from her husband, received Tuesday morning, he disclosed that he had been taken by plane a distance of 400 miles to England, where he is now in a hospital. He said that he was feeling fine and that he found it "swell to be in a good bed again."

HOSPITAL REPORT

York Springs Man Signs Guilty Plea

Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder reported today that Roy G. Miller, York Springs, signed a plea of guilty Tuesday to a charge of selling beer without a license, after information to that effect had been filed with Snyder for enforcement officers of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board.

Miller was held for the November sentence court. The charges were laid by G. E. Seescholtz who carried out investigations with N. L. Hunter and J. P. Yohe. The officers said they had purchased beer from Miller on Sunday. The illegal sales took place in a garage located between York Springs and Hampton, Snyder said.

DONALD DAME TO APPEAR IN CONCERT HERE

Donald Dame, Metropolitan Opera association tenor and a member of the Columbia all star opera quartet, will be one of the artists who will appear here this winter under the auspices of the Gettysburg Concert association, it was announced today.

Mr. Dame has a notable record of achievement in opera, oratorio and recital, and as a soloist with symphony orchestras on the radio. In April, 1943, he made his New York recital debut in Town Hall and was hailed by critics as one of the outstanding tenors of the newcomers. However, prior to this he had sung extensively in various cities in the country.

A native of Cleveland, Donald Dame studied at Western Reserve university and at the Juillard School of Music. Since beginning his professional career he has sung the lead in more than 15 operas at the Worcester festival, with the Cleveland opera, the Chautauqua opera, Trenton opera and elsewhere. He sang the tenor lead in radio's American Opera festival and has appeared in a number of operettas. He sings each Sunday with the "Music for an Hour" program over WOR.

Check-up Today

Two other artists who will appear here this winter will be announced next week.

Volunteer workers enrolling members in the local association this year will make their check-up report today at the association's headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg. The lobby office will be open until 9 p. m. to receive reports. Workers who are unable to report in person are urged to phone their membership totals before 9 o'clock tonight. The telephone number is Gettysburg 677.

Six workers this morning reported 81 members enrolled. However, more than 70 workers had not reported up to noon and association officers believe that a substantial part of the 550 members will have been enrolled when all the workers make their initial report today.

Plan Party For Presbyterian S.S.

Plans for a Halloween party for the pupils of the Presbyterian Sunday school were laid Tuesday evening at the October meeting of the officers and teachers of the school which followed a covered dish supper at the church. Superintendent E. Donald Scott presided. The party is to be held October 27.

Mrs. S. A. Messner was elected teacher of a new class in the junior department of the school and Mrs. Robert M. Hunt was named as a teacher in the beginners' department. Mrs. Harold J. Pegg was appointed chairman of the committee to arrange for a Christmas program for the school.

Changing the regular meeting night from the second to the third Tuesday, the group accepted an invitation to meet November 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road.

Rites Are Held For Miss McCurdy

Funeral services for Miss Grace McCurdy, 79, former resident of Gettysburg who died Sunday at State College, were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Evergreen cemetery at the family plot. The Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church, officiated.

The pallbearers were Raymond F. Topper, Esq., Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., Arthur R. Buehler and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Miss McCurdy was the last sister of the late Charles M. McCurdy, former cashier of the Gettysburg National bank, a former president of the Gettysburg Water company and retired Bellefonte banker. Mr. McCurdy died September 26, 1938, and was buried here.

YARN ARRIVES FOR RED CROSS

Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, announced this morning that another supply of yarn had been received at the chapter offices, Baltimore street, for the knitting of soldier and sailor sweaters, scarves and helmets.

The wool is available for knitters who will make the Navy scarves, and helmets and gloves, scarves and various types of sweaters for the soldiers. Types of sweaters needed include the turtle-neck sweater with long sleeves, and the V-neck sweater both long and short sleeve patterns.

Miss McMillan also announced the fifth shipment from the local office of fur coats and other fur items to the fur vest projects for merchant seamen, in New York city. The furs are used by the fur industry to make the warm vests for merchant seamen of the Allied merchant marine fleets and all work on the project is done free of charge. Persons who donate furs for the work will receive certificates of commendation.

Another shipment of woolen knit goods also is going out this week. Miss McMillan reported. The items are being sent in three different groups to various Red Cross centers for transfer. Included in the shipments are 13 Army sleeveless sweaters, three Navy scarves, five Navy turtle-neck sweaters, 22 Navy watch caps, two afghans, 36 Army gloves, 34 Army helmets and 19 Army mufflers.

The pallbearers were Raymond F. Topper, Esq., Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., Arthur R. Buehler and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

Students Collect 3 Million Tin Cans

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Schools in Pennsylvania collected nearly 3,000,000 prepared tin cans for war use during September, the state Defense Council's Salvage committee said today in announcing war bond prizes for three pupils and citations for two county school superintendents and a school.

Pupils collecting the greatest number of cans received these bond awards: $75 first prize, Robert Reading, Reinerton, Schuylkill county, 30,235 cans; $50 second prize, Clarence Baums, Pottsville, Schuylkill county, 12,000 cans; $25 third prize, John Hartline, West Lawn, Berks county, 8,305 cans.

BULLETINS

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The East Prussian port of Memel is surrounded by Russian troops who have reached the Baltic sea north and south of the city, the Berlin radio announced late today.

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—A blackout overprint on envelopes mailed by the Navy Athletic association, deleting the words "at Annapolis" as the site for the Army-Navy football game December 2, prompted speculation today that the big service game might go to a big town after all. But the Navy promptly stated in response to inquiry that the game will be played at the Naval academy—as scheduled.

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—Where is Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's U. S. Ninth Army? Secrecy with which Allied headquarters is surrounding this fighting force has left its movements and probable present location a matter of conjecture on both sides of the western front. Its whereabouts, when finally made known, may be the key to Allied strategy—the master plan to deliver a final knockout blow to Germany.

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—The high court of justice trying the former governor of the bank of Italy, Vincenzo Azollini, for his life rejected today his plea to postpone the case on the grounds that key witnesses are in north Italy and unavailable.

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The German radio reported Allied bomber formations over western Germany and also over the lower Danube, indicating a scissors play by the U. S. Eighth and 15th Air Forces from Britain and Italy.

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—President Sergio Osma of the Philippine government-in-exile has left Washington, presumably to be ready for a quick return to his homeland once General Douglas MacArthur's troops begin the promised liberation of the island commonwealth.

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said today he expected Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the party's presidential candidate to make another speech in Pennsylvania during the campaign, probably in Pittsburgh.

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chinese high command tonight reported a Japanese advance on the west river front toward Kweiping, Kwangsi province highway junction 70 miles southeast of Luichow.

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Oct. 11 (AP)—West African units, fighting in the southeastern corner of India near the Burmese border, have captured the village of Mowdolk, the Allied command disclosed today, dislodging Japanese defenders who had held the area throughout the monsoon season.

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Attorney General James H. Duff today issued an emphatic ruling upholding the legality of the vote cast by a soldier who may die after mailing it for counting at the November general election.

Cleveland, Oct. 11 (AP)—Officials of the Mechanics Educational Society of America (independent) stood firm today on their threat to tie up 64 war plants in Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey if a Cleveland graphite bronze company dispute is not placed before an arbitration panel.

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—A Chinese cabinet spokesman asserted today that prior to the end of May lend-lease supplies received by the armies in east and south China totaled 50 anti-tank guns, 60 mountain guns and 30,000,000 rounds of rifle and machinegun ammunition.

ONE PROPERTY TRANSFER

One deed was entered this morning at the office of Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner at the court house. The lone transfer was from Ralph P. and Hazel Connors, Wilbraham, Massachusetts, to Glenn A. and Dorothy E. Weaver, Hanover, a property of approximately 24 acres in Reading township.

OPA TO PROBE OVERCHARGE ON SOME CLOTHES

A compliance survey aimed at rolling back to the 1941 level prices women's, girls' and children's outerwear apparel is now underway in this ten-county area, it was announced today by the OPA.

Complaints have been received by the OPA of violations of OPA ceiling prices. Overcharges range from two to five dollars per garment, it was said.

In emphasizing the seriousness of the situation, the OPA pointed out that clothing is a principal factor in the cost of living and the price line must be held for this reason.

Retailers are required to file signed pricing charts in duplicate with the district OPA office on or before October 15, covering women's, girls' and children's outerwear. These charts must be computed from actual sales records during the base pricing period which, in most instances, is the last five months of 1941.

Close OPA Check

Preparation of these pricing charts is not new. Retailers have been required to keep them available for OPA inspection since September 1943. The charts now to be filed, however, will be closely examined by OPA and, if accepted, will be acknowledged. Action will be taken against retailers failing to file the charts by October 15.

Retailers who have gone into the business of selling women's, girls' and children's outerwear since May 18, 1944, must file application for authorization to establish maximum prices. This application must be filed with the OPA on or before October 15. It is expected that the filing of these price charts, and a close check that will follow, will contribute largely toward full compliance in apparel stores since retailers will be fully cognizant of the latest pricing requirements.

Expect Bumper Crop Of Food

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—The nation now is past the critical stage of war production, says War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

This year's crops may rank with those of 1942 as the greatest ever produced in this country, the crop reporting board said, unless bad weather interferes with harvesting.

Indications are that the corn crop will be the largest ever produced in the United States, the board said, as it increased its September estimate by 96,000,000 bushels and forecast a crop of 3,200,000,000 bushels. That figure would exceed the 1942 record by 65,000,000 bushels.

Wheat production was forecast at 1,108,881,000 bushels, a drop of 6,500,000, under the September estimate but still the largest on record.

Seek Acquittal For Mrs. Andrews

Salinas, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—Defense attorneys expected to use the greater part of today in final arguments asking an acquittal verdict for 37-year-old Mrs. Frances Andrews, Pennsylvania oil heiress on trial for the murder of Jay Lovett, her young farm boy neighbor.

Attorney Leo Friedman talked for five hours yesterday in Mrs. Andrews' defense. He attacked what he called bungling of law enforcement officers in investigating the case and argued that Lovett could have died by suicide, accident, or murder by someone other than the defendant.

He declared that the district attorney had characterized a quiet country boy as a Casanova to introduce a jealousy motive, saying:

"The picture of the dead boy placed before you was that of an Adonis—a Casanova with lots of sex appeal—irresistible to women; a boy who went up and down the Carmel valley seducing various ladies."

He said testimony brought out that Lovett was "quiet, thoughtful, and mannerly."

Lovett, 19, was found near Mrs. Andrews' house the night of last July 15, shot through the head with Mrs. Andrews' pistol.

ALLAN WEIKERT

Fleet Training school in radar, the electronic devices used to detect the approach of enemy forces. Following the radar work, Weikert's next assignment was to the sub-chaser training center at Miami, Fla.

Two Campaign Stars
That course at Miami, completed, Weikert shipped to the Pacific through the Panama canal and landed with his outfit at Sidney, Australia, Easter Sunday, 1943.

While serving in the Pacific waters on a 110-foot sub-chaser with a crew of about 30 men, Weikert shipped to practically all of the famous island battlefields, his ship being ordered to the positions with the vanguard of the invasion forces.

His Pacific-Asiatic theater of war ribbon has two stars, one for the New Guinea operations and the other for the campaign on the Bismarck archipelago.

Chased Jap Subs
On one trip, when assigned to combat action with amphibious forces, several ships in the flotilla, including his, struck a coral reef in heavy weather in the Coral sea about 120 miles off Australia. The ships were stuck on the reef for 12 hours when they were pulled off by other ships at high tide and returned to Australia for repairs. One of the ships was sunk in striking the reef.

Although he never was engaged in actual combat action, his ship attacked with depth charges a number of Jap submarines. Weikert reported that he was seasick only once during his whole tour of duty.

He graduated from Gettysburg high school with the class of 1939. At the completion of his leave he will report for duty on the Pacific coast. He expects to be assigned to a larger ship.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cars Crash On Lincoln Highway

Approximately $310 damage was caused to two cars Tuesday night in an accident approximately one-half mile west of Abbottstown on the Lincoln highway, state police reported this morning.

Police said a car driven by Francis M. Rabine, center square, New Oxford, was struck by an automobile being driven by Heller V. Rife, New Oxford R. 2, as Rife attempted to pass the Rabine vehicle. Rabine is reported to have lost control of his vehicle which traveled approximately 300 feet across the highway and came to rest against a guard rail.

Damage to the Rabine car was estimated at about $300 while the Rife machine was damaged to the extent of $10. No one was injured in the accident.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING HERE

The Adams, Franklin, Fulton and York county council of the American Legion auxiliary will meet Thursday at St. James Lutheran church.

The executive board will meet at 10:30 a. m. and the council session will convene at 11 a. m. when council and unit officers will be installed by Mrs. A. L. Westbrook, director American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Pennsylvania.

The new Gettysburg unit officers will be installed at this time.

Reports on the president and secretaries conference which was held at Harrisburg October 6 will be given. Unit reports will also be made.

At 12:30 o'clock the Maude Miller Bible class of the church will serve a luncheon to the group. Preceding the luncheon, Miss Lena Hart-Jdmw zell, a member of the local unit, will play a group of piano selections.

MUCH CLOTHING IS COLLECTED

The eight Catholic parishes of Adams county collected 13,544 articles during the campaign to obtain clothing for the needy in the liberated countries of Europe, it was announced Tuesday by the Rev. Cyril J. Alwine, assistant at the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown. The Rev. Father Alwine served as area director for the drive.

The campaign was conducted by the parishes in Adams county from September 24 to 30. Churches participating included those in McSherrystown, Littlestown, Gettysburg, Fairfield, Buchanan Valley, Bonneville, New Oxford and Abbottstown. The clothing will be distributed free in liberated countries.

The Catholic parishes of Adams county received 316 cartons of clothing weighing 10,713 pounds. Included were 1,330 outer coats, 1,552 woolen articles for men and boys, 1,974 woolen articles for women and girls, 4,413 cotton articles for women and girls, 2,818 garments for infants, and 168 blankets.

York Springs Man Signs Guilty Plea

Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder reported today that Roy G. Miller, York Springs, signed a plea of guilty Tuesday to a charge of selling beer without a license, after information to that effect had been filed with Snyder by enforcement officers of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board.

Miller was held for the November sentence court. The charges were laid by G. E. Seescholtz who carried out investigations with N. L. Hunter and J. P. Yohe. The officers said they had purchased beer from Miller on Sunday. The illegal sales took place in a garage located between York Springs and Hampton, Snyder said.

PFC. D. CARVER IMPRESSED BY PARISIAN SIGHTS

Pfc. Donald Carver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carver, College campus, and husband of Mrs. Marie Carver, West Middle street, tells of his experiences with a salvage unit in France in a letter recently received by The Gettysburg Times.

Friends here have received mail from him this week that was written in Belgium.

All French towns have something in them worth seeing, Carver writes, but a sight seeing trip to Paris apparently furnished Carver with some of his most interesting moments in France.

His letter follows:

Dear Friends:

It's been quite some time since I last wrote to you, so while I have a chance, I will try and tell you what has happened since my last letter. Many times I have started to write but there are many reasons why I never finished. The main reason I suppose is because of the many "bull sessions" which are popular in the army. They concern everything from rumors in the army to home life, which is the most pleasant. It also gets dark very early here and lights are out of the question. A blackout is one thing we observe for our own good and safety.

Being in France where a new language is used finds most of us stumped. I wish you could hear some G. I. use the sign language to make them understand. Of course I studied French two years in high school and one year in college so I don't do too bad, but my communications could be better. I side from their language everything they do is about the same as the United States. Their food is of greeting you and saying good-bye is done with the familiar handshake. They are very courteous and thankful for the things done for them.

Hard Working People

The French farmers really belong to a class of their own. Their methods of farming differ from ours, but they are hard working people and get things done quick. Practically all of their plowing is done by horses, although sometimes you will see them using oxen. The horses are the largest I have ever seen and are very beautiful. The French farmer is very picturesque. He wears wooden shoes because of the soil here which is unusually damp. This morning it was very damp and misty. As far as I can see their crops are the same as ours. It is especially moved for its butter, eggs, cheese, big potatoes, sardines and all of their wines. Orchards are very numerous.

All French towns have something worth seeing. The churches are unusually picturesque. They are of Gothic style and stained glass windows and pointed arches.

Not so long ago I saw part of Paris and to describe it I will use a sentence I read in the Stars and Stripes about one G. I. seeing Paris: "I've seen two Worlds Falls but this is better yet," so you can just imagine how pretty it is. As you will know the cathedral of Notre Dame is the most famous church in Paris. I've seen it in movies but to actually see it was really a thrill. The Eiffel tower is about the tallest place I've ever seen. Napoleon's tomb and the Louvre, which is the great art gallery, are some of the sights to be seen. I can imagine one could spend months in Paris sightseeing, but we are not here for that so I didn't see everything, but what I saw I will never forget.

Good Entertainment

Our food is very changeable here. When we first arrived here our food was K rations which lasted about one week and followed by 10 in 1 rations which are pretty good. Later we got B rations which consist of meats, bread and vegetables. Right now we are eating all three kinds.

The Special Service is really doing a good job here. The last two weeks we have had plenty of entertainment. We had a USO show with Fred Astaire as the main attraction. Willy Shaw was the master of ceremonies and had all us G. I.'s splitting our sides laughing. Fred Astaire and his accordeon player just came from the Pacific and Fred hasn't lost a bit of his dancing ability. The crowd was good and he received plenty of cheers from us followed by getting his autograph after the show. Yesterday we had an all-G. I. show which was the best I've ever seen. Three boys dressed like the Andrews Sisters with a record of them and just doing the movements. I think everyone was fooled for quite awhile. There is quite a bit of talent here. We also have a lot of movie pictures. In all, when we are not busy, we are entertained only by the best they can offer.

"Can't Last Long"

We still receive our cigarettes, candy, gum, tooth paste, tooth brushes, shaving cream, razor blades and razors free. As far as spending money here it is very rare as passes are a thing of the past. The next pass I want to receive is for home as all the boys want. The discussion of the war is a subject we all discuss with interest. The news is very good so I don't see how it can last much longer. I have been overseas only seven months so I don't expect to be seeing home for awhile.

Red Cross Steps Up Message Service

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11—In an effort to speed transmittal of emergency messages from servicemen in France to their families at home, the American Red Cross has arranged direct communication service between Red Cross field directors in France and Home Service at national headquarters through the facilities of Army radio. It was disclosed today.

For some time after the invasion, it was necessary for the messages to go by way of London.

Emergency messages sent through Red Cross by families in this country to men in France will continue to be relayed through London where they are checked against the Army locator files to facilitate delivery. The messages are then forwarded by courier to France.

When telegraph facilities are not available to the servicemen's nearest Red Cross field director, the message is sent to the forward area in an Army mail pouch by jeep, plane or ship. Often one or all of these are used by field directors in delivering messages to men at the front.

NAZI GARRISON IS ISOLATED ON CORFU ISLE

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—British troops in Albania have captured the port of Sarande (Porto Edda), isolating the German garrison on the island of Corfu, Allied headquarters announced today.

The announcement said also that "patrolling is active" in Greece, but there was no indication whether the land forces of the Adriatic have moved beyond captured Corinth toward Athens.

Sarande, supply port for the Germans on Corfu, was captured after a hard battle, it was said.

About 500 prisoners were taken. With the port in British hands there appeared little possibility that the Germans on Corfu, last reported to total a regiment, would be able to escape to the mainland.

Planes Destroy Ship

Mopping up operations continued around the town of Gjiashale.

Balkan air force bearfighters with Mustang escort attacked barracks and railroads at Kriz in Yugoslavia 30 miles southeast of Zagreb. The escort shot down a Dornier-217 and two single-engined biplanes.

A Serb on the Dalmatian coast southeast of Fiume, an enemy ship was left afire when bearfighters hit it with 25 rockets.

The Naval command announced that the British Destroyer H. M. S. Wilton and a heavily armed landing craft shelled German troops and gun positions on the Albanian coast north of Corfu October 8 with good results.

Dewey Prepares For Final Swing

Albany, Oct. 11 (AP)—On the verge of his final drive for the Presidency, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey took time out from campaign planning Tuesday to pay final respects to the man who defeated him for the 1940 Republican nomination.

The New York Governor booked passage on a train leaving at 9:40 a. m. Eastern War Time, for New York city, where funeral services were held at 3 p. m. in Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church for Wendell L. Willkie.

Dewey, who won his party's nomination easily last June after Willkie had withdrawn as a candidate, planned to return to Albany immediately after the services to prepare for a political swing through the middle west and New England. Beyond doubt, his associates said, he will devote at least one major speech to the "momentous task" of setting up a postwar peace organization. He said in a statement yesterday that he was "very happy" over the fine beginning made at the Dambarton Oaks conferences.

WINS FARM AWARD

Kansas City, Oct. 11 (AP)—George Fogle of Okemos, Mich., has won the national award for excellence in farm mechanics, offered by a plow company at the 17th annual convention of the Future Farmers of America. He received a check for $500 from the company. Owen E. Hess of Millinburg, Pa., won $250, judges disclosed Monday.

yet as there are boys who have been overseas a lot longer. First we have to finish our job. Not only here but in the Pacific.

I received a letter from Harry Orler yesterday and he tells me he is in France now. I suppose he will be writing soon and telling you the things about France I have forgotten. There is plenty to write about. As yet I haven't seen a boy from home here but I know there are plenty. For the boys who fought and died here I hold the greatest respect. They have done a swell job and everyone should be proud of them.

My wife has been sending me the paper and two days ago I received my first two copies, dated July 15th and 17th. Although two months old, my mind wandered home and what a memory. It sure is great to read the home news from here.

YANKS SLOWED BY MUD, NAZIS IN N. ITALY

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—American troops, still slowed by rain and deep mud, have reached the southern outskirts of Livernano, 11 miles due south of Bologna on Highway 65, and advance elements there are meeting fierce German counterattacks, it was announced today.

The pace of the fighting along the entire Italian battlefield generally was reported retarded by adverse weather.

After several days of bloody fighting British troops of the Fifth Army shot the Germans off Mount Cece and took possession of the little knob of ground. The British also managed to put troops on Mount Freddo, where the Germans had reacted violently for days to any attempt to advance.

Bad Weather For Planes

American troops moved into Gesso in the hills 11 miles southwest of Imola and clung to it despite a German counterattack. Another hill and the villages of Magerato and Campagne east of Highway 65 also were seized by the Americans.

West of the highway, too, the Germans were fighting for every mud puddle, but some progress was made in the drive for Bologna and advance elements were approaching Vado, 12 miles to the southwest. South Italian troops were reported locked in bitter fighting on Mount Stancio, just west of Grizzana on the American left.

Air operations again were restricted by the weather, but there was some activity against rail bridge and gun targets by fighters and fighterbombers. Five Allied planes were lost from about 800 sorties.

Blackout Rules Remain In Force

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, state Defense council director, told Pennsylvanians Tuesday they "will be responsible for complete adherence" to blackout rules until they are cancelled by the U.S. Army.

In a bulletin to local Defense council chairmen, Dr. Hutchison said:

"The progress of the war is causing some uncertainty and confusion in the public mind regarding their duties in regard to air raid precautions. It is also causing uncertainty in civilian Defense as to the continuance of our activities."

WILLKIE'S BODY ENROUTE WEST

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—The body of Wendell L. Willkie was en route today to his Rushville, Ind., birthplace after funeral services attended by the great and obscure at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday.

At Rushville the massive bronze casket will be placed in a crypt to await the return of Willkie's son, Lt. (jg) Philip Willkie from Atlantic convoy duty.

Edward Willkie, a brother, accompanied the body to Indiana while Mrs. Willkie remained here to meet her son. Mrs. Willkie declined an offer from the office of the secretary of war for burial of her husband in Arlington National cemetery. Lemoyne Jones, Willkie's secretary, said.

Besides 2,500 persons in the church who heard eulogies for the 52-year-old 1940 Republican presidential candidate by the Rev. John Sutherland Bonnell, 35,000 others stood in the street during the funeral services.

Among the distinguished mourners were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Gov. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, former President Herbert Hoover, Mayor F. H. La Guardia, Bernard Baruch and others. Col. Sumner Waite, chief of staff of the second service command, was the official representative of the President.

Letter to the Editor

Sept. 29, 1944
In France

Dear Sir:

I just finished reading an old issue of the Gettysburg Times and although the news was old it made me feel at home reading it. It has been quite awhile since I have written to you but I never forget a good paper.

I enjoy reading the paper very much although there is one thing that really burns me up and I believe also other soldiers—people back home striking. If these people had their homes and everything they owned blown to pieces I believe then they would realize something more. You probably heard about the piece of St. Lo and how tough a time they had taking it, but if you could see the place you would see and realize it wasn't an easy job.

I saw St. Lo and many other places that have been ruined—people moving out, sleeping in the streets, not half enough to eat. About a week after I landed in France I went into the Red Cross in town where a buddy of mine, Cpl. George Lebo, from New Cumberland, Pa., was enjoying a cup of coffee. I heard someone say "Bim Miller." I looked around, there stood S-Sgt. Joe Slonaker who I went to school with and also carried papers when he did. We had a long chat about everything and had to go on. That was the third one I've met from Gettysburg and the most thrilling one.

I'll have to say so-long.

Yours truly,
CPL. EUGENE B. MILLER

BRICKER URGES MILITARY BASES

Bremerton, Wash., Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker advocated today that America maintain a "strong system of outlying military bases" after the war, and blamed President Roosevelt for the failure to fortify Guam.

The Republican candidate for vice president, set forth what he described as his party's position in an address prepared for delivery in the great shipyards vicinity of Bremerton where on August 12 he said, the President stated:

"We were not allowed to fortify Guam, nor did we fortify Wake, or Midway or Samoa."

Bricker, referring to the valiant, five month stand of American soldiers on Corregidor, said in the text released by his campaign staff available evidence warranted the conclusion that fortification of Guam was not in the President's program.

"He was afraid of offending Japan," Bricker said. "It was the same reason for which he kept providing Japan with oil and scrap iron. He did not ask congress to fortify Guam. Guam was not fortified—Japan struck. The responsibility rests squarely upon the President."

Bricker declared that America also needed "those Pacific bases which we once so tamely yielded to Japan and ourselves neglected."

Heads U. S. Naval Forces In France

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—Vice Adm. Alan G. Kirk is now serving as commander of United States Naval forces in France, Adm. Harold R. Stark announced Monday.

Kirk commanded the western task force during the Normandy invasion. Previously, he led a task force in the Sicilian landings.

He served in London as naval attaché at the American embassy and chief of staff to Stark, commander of U. S. Naval forces in Europe in 1942. He had a previous tour of duty in Great Britain as Naval attaché in 1939-40.

Kirk wears the U. S. Legion of Merit badge and the British Order of the Bath. He is 56, a graduate of Annapolis and a native of Philadelphia. His home is at Black Point, Connecticut.

PFC. D. CARVER IMPRESSED BY PARISIAN SIGHTS

Pfc. Donald Carver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carver, College campus, and husband of Mrs. Marie Carver, West Middle street, tells of his experiences with a salvage unit in France in a letter recently received by The Gettysburg Times.

Friends here have received mail from him this week that was written in Belgium.

All French towns have something in them worth seeing, Carver writes, but a sight seeing trip to Paris apparently furnished Carver with some of his most interesting moments in France.

His letter follows:

Dear Friends:

We still receive our cigarettes, candy, gum, tooth paste, tooth brushes, shaving cream, razor blades and razors free. As far as spending money here it is very rare as passes are a thing of the past. The next pass I want to receive is for home as all the boys want. The discussion of the war is a subject we all discuss with interest. The news is very good so I don't see how it can last much longer. I have been overseas only seven months so I don't expect to be seeing home for awhile.

Red Cross Steps Up Message Service

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11—In an effort to speed transmittal of emergency messages from servicemen in France to their families at home, the American Red Cross has arranged direct communication service between Red Cross field directors in France and Home Service at national headquarters through the facilities of Army radio, it was disclosed today.

For some time after the invasion, it was necessary for the messages to go by way of London.

Emergency messages sent through Red Cross by families in this country to men in France will continue to be relayed through London where they are checked against the Army locator files to facilitate delivery. The messages are then forwarded by courier to France.

When telegraph facilities are not available to the serviceman's nearest Red Cross field director, the message is sent to the forward area in an Army mail pouch by jeep, plane or ship. Often one or all of these are used by field directors in delivering messages to men at the front.

NAZI GARRISON IS ISOLATED ON CORFU ISLE

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—British troops in Albania have captured the port of Sarande (Porto Edda), isolating the German garrison on the island of Corfu. Allied headquarters announced today.

The announcement said also that "patrolling is active" in Greece, but there was no indication whether the land forces of the Adriatic have moved beyond captured Corinth toward Athens.

Sarande, supply port for the Germans on Corfu, was captured after a hard battle, it was said.

About 500 prisoners were taken. With the port in British hands there appeared little possibility that the Germans on Corfu, last reported to total a regiment, would be able to escape to the mainland.

Planes Destroy Ship

Mopping up operations continued around the town of Glasthede. Balkan air force beatfighters with Mustang escort attacked barracks and rail yards at Kriz, in Yugoslavia 30 miles southeast of Zagreb. The escort shot down a Dornier-217 and two single-engined biplanes.

At Senj, on the Dalmatian coast southeast of Fiume, an enemy ship was left afire when beatfighters hit it with 25 rockets.

The Naval command announced that the British Destroyer H. M. S. Wilton and a heavily armed landing craft shelled German troops and gun positions on the Albanian coast north of Corfu October 8 with good results.

Dewey Prepares For Final Swing

Albany, Oct. 11 (AP)—On the verge of his final drive for the Presidency, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey took time out from campaign planning Tuesday to pay final respects to the man who defeated him for the 1940 Republican nomination.

The New York Governor booked passage on a train leaving at 9:40 a. m. Eastern War Time, for New York city, where funeral services were held at 3 p. m. in Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church for Wendell L. Willkie.

Dewey, who won his party's nomination easily last June after Willkie had withdrawn as a candidate, planned to return to Albany immediately after the services to prepare for a political swing through the middle west and New England. Beyond doubt, his associates said, he will devote at least one major speech to the "momentous task" of setting up a postwar peace organization. He said in a statement yesterday that he was "very happy" over the fine beginning made at the Dumbarton Oaks conferences.

WINS FARM AWARD

Kansas City, Oct. 11 (AP)—George Fogle of Okemos, Mich., has won the national award for excellence in farm mechanics, offered by a plow company at the 17th annual convention of the Future Farmers of America. He received a check for $500 from the company. Owen E. Hess of Millinburg, Pa., won $250, judges disclosed Monday.

yet as there are boys who have been overseas a lot longer. First we have to finish our job, not only here but in the Pacific.

I received a letter from Harry Oyler yesterday and he tells me he is in France now. I suppose he will be writing soon and telling you the things about France I have forgotten. As yet I haven't seen a boy from home here but I know there are plenty. For the boys who fought and died here I hold the greatest respect. They have done a swell job and everyone should be proud of them.

My wife has been sending me the paper and two days ago I received my first two copies, dated July 15th and 17th. Although two months old, my mind wandered home and what a memory. It sure is great to read the home news from here.

YANKS SLOWED BY MUD, NAZIS IN N. ITALY

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—American troops, still slowed by rain and deep mud, have reached the southern outskirts of Livernano, 11 miles due south of Bologna on Highway 65, and advance elements there are meeting fierce German counterattacks, it was announced today.

The pace of the fighting along the entire Italian battlefield generally was reported retarded by adverse weather.

After several days of bloody fighting British troops of the Fifth Army shot the Germans off Mount Cece and took possession of the little knob of ground. The British also managed to put troops on Mount Predo, where the Germans had reacted violently for days to any attempt to advance.

Bad Weather For Planes

American troops moved into Gesso in the hills 11 miles southwest of Imola and clung to it despite a German counterattack. Another hill and the villages of Magertolo and Campagne east of Highway 65 also were seized by the Americans.

West of the highway, too, the Germans were fighting for every mud puddle, but some progress was made in the drive for Bologna and advance elements were approaching Vado, 12 miles to the southwest. South African troops were reported locked in bitter fighting on Mount Stancio, just west of Grizzana on the American left.

Air operations again were restricted by the weather, but there was some activity against rail, bridge and gun targets by fighters and fighterbombers. Five Allied planes were lost from about 800 sorties.

Blackout Rules Remain In Force

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, state Defense council director, told Pennsylvanians Tuesday they "will be responsible for complete adherence" to blackout rules until they are cancelled by the U.S. Army.

In a bulletin to local Defense council chairmen, Dr. Hutchison said:

"The progress of the war is causing some uncertainty and confusion in the public mind regarding their duties in regard to air raid precautions. It is also causing uncertainty in civilian defense as to the continuance of our activities."

WILLKIE'S BODY ENROUTE WEST

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—The body of Wendell L. Willkie was en route today to his Rushville, Ind., birthplace after funeral services attended by the great and obscure at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday.

At Rushville the massive bronze casket will be placed in a crypt to await the return of Willkie's son, Lt. (jg) Philip Willkie from Atlantic convoy duty.

Edward Willkie, a brother, accompanied the body to Indiana while Mrs. Willkie remained here to meet her son. Mrs. Willkie declined an offer from the office of the secretary of war for burial of her husband in Arlington National cemetery, Lemoyne Jones, Willkie's secretary, said.

Besides 2,500 persons in the church who heard eulogies for the 52-year-old 1940 Republican presidential candidate by the Rev. John Sutherland Bonnell, 35,000 others stood in the street during the funeral services.

Among the distinguished mourners were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Gov. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, former President Herbert Hoover, Mayor F. H. La Guardia, Bernard Baruch and others. Col. Sumner Waite, chief of staff of the second service command, was the official representative of the President.

Letter to the Editor

Sept. 29, 1944

Dear Sir:

I just finished reading an old issue of the Gettysburg Times and although the news was old it made me feel at home reading it. It has been quite awhile since I have written to you but I never forget a good paper.

I enjoy reading the paper very much although there is one thing that really burns me up and I believe also other soldiers—people back home striking. If these people had their homes and everything they owned blown to pieces I believe then they would realize something more. You probably heard about the place of St. Lo and how tough a time they had taking it, but if you could see the place you would see and realize it wasn't an easy job.

I saw St. Lo and many other places that have been ruined—people moving out, sleeping in the streets, not half enough to eat. About a week after I landed in France I went into the Red Cross in town where a buddy of mine, Cpl. George Lebo, from New Cumberland, Pa., was enjoying a cup of coffee. I heard someone say "Bim Miller," I looked around, there stood S-Sgt. Joe Slonaker who I went to school with and also carried papers when he did. We had a long chat about everything and had to go on. That was the third one I've met from Gettysburg and the most thrilling one.

I'll have to say so-long.

Yours truly,
CPL. EUGENE B. MILLER

BRICKER URGES MILITARY BASES

Bremerton, Wash., Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker advocated today that America maintain a "strong system of outlying military bases" after the war, and blamed President Roosevelt for the failure to fortify Guam.

The Republican candidate for vice president, set forth what he described as his party's position in an address prepared for delivery in the great shipyards vicinity of Bremerton where on August 12 he said, the President stated:

"We were not allowed to fortify Guam, nor did we fortify Wake, or Midway or Samoa."

Bricker, referring to the valiant, five month stand of American soldiers on Corregidor, said in the text released by his campaign staff available evidence warranted the conclusion that fortification of Guam was not in the President's program.

"He was afraid of offending Japan," Bricker said. "It was the same reason for which he kept providing Japan with oil and scrap iron. He did not ask congress to fortify Guam. Guam was not fortified—Japan struck. The responsibility rests squarely upon the President."

Bricker declared that America also needed "those Pacific bases which we once so tamely yielded to Japan and ourselves neglected."

Heads U. S. Naval Forces In France

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—Vice Adm. Alan G. Kirk is now serving as commander of United States Naval forces in France, Adm. Harold R. Stark announced Monday.

Kirk commanded the western task force during the Normandy invasion. Previously, he led a task force in the Sicilian landings.

He served in London as naval attaché at the American embassy and chief of staff to Stark, commander of U. S. Naval forces in Europe in 1942. He had a previous tour of duty in Great Britain as Naval attaché in 1939-40.

Kirk wears the U. S. Legion of Merit badge and the British Order of the Bath. He is 56, a graduate of Annapolis and a native of Philadelphia. His home is at Black Point, Connecticut.

PFC. D. CARVER IMPRESSED BY PARISIAN SIGHTS

Pfc. Donald Carver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carver, College campus, and husband of Mrs. Marie Carver, West Middle street, tells of his experiences with a salvage unit in France in a letter recently received by The Gettysburg Times.

Friends here have received mail from him this week that was written in Belgium.

All French towns have something in them worth seeing, Carver writes, but a sight seeing trip to Paris apparently furnished Carver with some of his most interesting moments in France.

His letter follows:

Dear Friends:

It's been quite some time since I last wrote to you, so while I have a chance, I will try and tell you what has happened since my last letter. Many times I have started to write but there are many reasons why I never finished. The main reason I suppose is because of the many "bull sessions" which are popular in the army. They concern everything from rumors in the army to home life, which is the most pleasant. It also gets dark very early here and lights are out of the question. A blackout is one thing we observe for our own good and safety.

Being in France where a new language is used finds most of us stumped. I wish you could hear some G. I.'s use the sign language to make them understand. Of course I studied French two years in high school and one year in college so I don't do too bad, but my pronunciations could be better. Aside from their language everything they do is about the same as the United States. Their form of greeting you and saying good-bye is done with the familiar handshake. They are very courteous and thankful for the things done for them.

Hard Working People

The French farmers really belong to a class of their own. Their methods of farming differ from ours, but they are hard working people and get things done quick. Practically all of their plowing is done by horses, although sometimes you will see them using oxen. The horses are the largest I have ever seen and are very beautiful. The French farmer is very picturesque. He wears wooden shoes because of the soil here which is unusually damp. This morning it was very damp and misty. As far as I can see their crops are the same as ours. It is especially noted for its butter, eggs, cheese, big potatoes, sardines and all of their wines. Orchards are very numerous.

All French towns have something worth seeing. The churches are unusually picturesque. They are of Gothic style and stained glass windows and pointed arches.

Not so long ago I saw part of Paris and to describe it I will use a sentence I read in the Stars and Stripes about one G. I. seeing Paris: "I've seen two Worlds Fair but this is better yet." So you can just imagine how pretty it is. As you will know the cathedral of Notre Dame is the most famous church in Paris. I've seen it in movies but to actually see it was really a thrill. The Eiffel tower is about the tallest place I've ever seen. Napoleon's tomb and the Louvre, which is the great art gallery, are some more of the sights to be seen. I can imagine one could spend months in Paris sightseeing, but we are not here for that so I didn't see everything, but what I saw I will never forget.

Good Entertainment

Our food is very changeable here. When we first arrived here our food was K rations which lasted about one week and followed by 10 in 1 rations which are pretty good. Later we got B rations which consist of meats, bread and vegetables. Right now we are eating all three kinds.

The Special Service is really doing a good job here. The last two weeks we have had plenty of entertainment. We had a USO show with Fred Astaire as the main attraction. Willy Shaw was the master of ceremonies and had all G. I.'s splitting our sides laughing. Fred Astaire and his acrobatic partner just came from the Pacific and Fred hasn't lost a bit of his dancing ability. The crowd was good and he received plenty of cheers from us followed by getting his autograph after the show. Yesterday we had an all-G. I. show which was the best I've ever seen. Three boys dressed like the Andrews Sisters with a record of them and just doing the movements. I think everyone was fooled for quite awhile. There is quite a bit of talent here. We also have a lot of movie pictures. In all, when we are not busy, we are entertained only by the best they can offer.

"Can't Last Long"

We still receive our cigarettes, candy, gum, tooth paste, tooth brushes, shaving cream, razor blades and razors free. As far as spending money here it is very rare as passes are a thing of the past. The next pass I want to receive is for home as all the boys want. The discussion of the war is a subject we all discuss with interest. The news is very good so I don't see how it can last much longer. I have been overseas only seven months so I don't expect to be seeing home for awhile.

Red Cross Steps Up Message Service

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11—In an effort to speed transmittal of emergency messages from servicemen in France to their families at home, the American Red Cross has arranged direct communication service between Red Cross field directors in France and Home Service at national headquarters through the facilities of Army radio, it was disclosed today.

For some time after the invasion, it was necessary for the messages to go by way of London.

Emergency messages sent through Red Cross by families in this country to men in France will continue to be relayed through London where they are checked against the Army locator files to facilitate delivery. The messages are then forwarded by courier to France.

When telegraph facilities are not available to the serviceman's nearest Red Cross field director, the message is sent to the forward area in an Army mail pouch by jeep, plane or ship. Often one or all of these are used by field directors in delivering messages to men at the front.

YANKS SLOWED BY MUD, NAZIS IN N. ITALY

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—American troops, still slowed by rain and deep mud, have reached the southern outskirts of Livernano, 11 miles due south of Bologna on Highway 65, and advance elements there are meeting fierce German counterattacks, it was announced today.

The pace of the fighting along the entire Italian battlefield generally was reported retarded by adverse weather.

After several days of bloody fighting British troops of the Fifth Army shot the Germans off Mount Cece and took possession of the little knob of ground. The British also managed to put troops on Mount Preddo, where the Germans had reacted violently for days to any attempt to advance.

Bad Weather For Planes

American troops moved into Gesso in the hills 11 miles southwest of Imola and clung to it despite a German counterattack. Another hill and the villages of Mageratoio and Campagne east of Highway 65 also were seized by the Americans.

West of the highway, too, the Germans were fighting for every mud puddle, but some progress was made in the drive for Bologna and advance elements were approaching Vado, 12 miles to the southwest. South African troops were reported locked in bitter fighting on Mount Stanco, just west of Grizzana on the American left.

Air operations again were restricted by the weather, but there was some activity against rail, bridge and gun targets by fighters and fighterbombers. Five Allied planes were lost from about 800 sorties.

Blackout Rules Remain In Force

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, state Defense council director, told Pennsylvanians Tuesday they "will be responsible for complete adherence" to blackout rules until they are cancelled by the U.S. Army.

In a bulletin to local Defense council chairmen, Dr. Hutchison said:

"The progress of the war is causing some uncertainty and confusion in the public mind regarding their duties in regard to air raid precautions. It is also causing uncertainty in Civilian Defense as to the continuance of our activities."

WILLKIE'S BODY ENROUTE WEST

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—The body of Wendell L. Willkie was en route today to his Rushville, Ind., birthplace after funeral services attended by the great and obscure at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday.

At Rushville the massive bronze casket will be placed in a crypt to await the return of Willkie's son, Lt. (jg) Philip Willkie from Atlantic convoy duty.

Edward Willkie, a brother, accompanied the body to Indiana while Mrs. Willkie remained here to meet her son. Mrs. Willkie declined an offer from the office of the secretary of war for burial of her husband in Arlington National cemetery, Lemoyne Jones, Willkie's secretary, said.

Besides 2,500 persons in the church who heard eulogies for the 52-year-old 1940 Republican presidential candidate by the Rev. John Sutherland Bonnell, 35,000 others stood in the street during the funeral services.

Among the distinguished mourners were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Gov. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, former President Herbert Hoover, Mayor F. H. La Guardia, Bernard Baruch and others. Col. Sumner Waite, chief of staff of the second service command, was the official representative of the President.

Sept. 29, 1944
In France

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I just finished reading an old issue of the Gettysburg Times and although the news was old it made me feel at home reading it. It has been quite awhile since I have written to you but I never forget a good paper.

I enjoy reading the paper very much although there is one thing that really burns me up and I believe also other soldiers—people back home striking. If these people had their homes and everything they owned blown to pieces I believe then they would realize something more. You probably heard about the place of St. Lo and how tough a time they had taking it, but if you could see the place you would see and realize it wasn't an easy job.

I saw St. Lo and many other places that have been ruined—people moving out, sleeping in the streets, not half enough to eat. About a week after I landed in France I went into the Red Cross in town where a buddy of mine, Cpl. George Lebo, from New Cumberland, Pa., was enjoying a cup of coffee. I heard someone say "Bim Miller." I looked around, there stood S-Sgt. Joe Slonaker who I went to school with and also carried papers when he did. We had a long chat about everything and had to go on. That was the third one I've met from Gettysburg and the most thrilling one.

I'll have to say so-long.

Yours truly,
CPL. EUGENE B. MILLER

BRICKER URGES MILITARY BASES

Bremerton, Wash., Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker advocated today that America maintain a "strong system of outlying military bases" after the war, and blamed President Roosevelt for the failure to fortify Guam.

The Republican candidate for vice president, set forth what he described as his party's position in an address prepared for delivery in the great shipyards vicinity of Bremerton where on August 12 he said, the President stated:

"We were not allowed to fortify Guam, nor did we fortify Wake, or Midway or Samoa."

Bricker, referring to the valiant, five month stand of American soldiers on Corregidor, said in the text released by his campaign staff available evidence warranted the conclusion that fortification of Guam was not in the President's program.

"He was afraid of offending Japan," Bricker said. "It was the same reason for which he kept providing Japan with oil and scrap iron. He did not ask congress to fortify Guam. Guam was not fortified—Japan struck. The responsibility rests squarely upon the President."

Bricker declared that America also needed "those Pacific bases which we once so tamely yielded to Japan and ourselves neglected."

Heads U. S. Naval Forces In France

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—Vice Adm. Alan G. Kirk is now serving as commander of United States Naval forces in France, Adm. Harold R. Stark announced Monday.

Kirk commanded the western task force during the Normandy invasion. Previously, he led a task force in the Sicilian landings.

He served in London as naval attaché at the American embassy and chief of staff to Stark, commander of U. S. Naval forces in Europe in 1942. He had a previous tour of duty in Great Britain as Naval attaché in 1939-40.

Kirk wears the U. S. Legion of Merit badge and the British Order of the Bath. He is 56, a graduate of Annapolis and a native of Philadelphia. His home is at Black Point, Connecticut.

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength.

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system...insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health.

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need!

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat...to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality...pep...become animated...more attractive!

Just Folks
FOOLISH WISE
I've been laughed at; I've been jeered at;
I've been sneered at and derided.
But the fact is, in their practice,
Most have done the same as I did.
And when questioned will admit:
Obed, as I, a little bit.
And went out with eyes aflame
On the day the grandchild came.
Once they thought I was the only
One who tramped the hall and waited,
Watched and worried, anxious,
Furried.
While the doctors operated.
They could face it calmly, maybe!
And as coolly greet a baby
Just arrived through hours of danger.
As they would some grown up stranger!
They so wise and I so foolish!
And perhaps I shouldn't doubt them.
I'm the duffer, born to suffer,
But I've learned this truth about them:
Those who sneered at me the loudest
Of their grandchild now are proudest.
And for weakness can be chided.
For they cried a bit, as I did!

Today's Talk
ALERTNESS
William Shakespeare wrote his great play "Julius Caesar" when he was but 37 years of age. In it he brings out the relationship of the citizen to the state, and shows how easy it is for a dictator to sow the seeds of disintegration and decay in a republic.
History is replete with examples of the death of republics that have allowed the voice of a dictator to become so charming and "reasonable" that the people have come to lose their sense of proportion and their guardianship of liberty. It was a republic that Franklin had in mind when the discussion arose as to what form the new government of the united colonies should adopt: A republic under democratic procedure.
Alertness alone is able to save, and keep, an able government, of the people, by the people, for the people.
Terms work in the dark. They cannot live in the light. They work twenty-four hours a day, silently. They keep boring within, until the strongest structure gives way, and there is ruin. Just so do the forces of evil work in a nation—and just so do they damage work in the individual. We must be on the alert at all times—against the working of destructive forces against health and against character.
The business man must be forever on the alert to note leaks or losses. Constant watchfulness is his key to a successful culmination of his business. Pearl Harbor is the tragic story of failing to be on the alert. He goes further—who is most alert? Test this out in any way you wish and it is sure to prove true. When people become pathetic is when they begin to lose their freedom, for the enemies of freedom are always on the alert.
The privilege of citizen a ballot in a democracy is the citizen's greatest weapon for the preservation of his freedom. To fail to register to exercise that privilege is to render that privilege unworthy of such citizenship in a democracy.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will tell on the subject "Democracy".
Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chinese high command announced Tuesday that Col. Tsoo Cheng, department commander, had been executed October 7 for failing to carry out his orders in connection with the defense of Pingnan, west river town, in Kwangsi province which was recently captured by the Japanese.

MOSCOW TALKS ARE MARKED BY FULL HARMONY
By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Oct. 11 (AP)—Talks between Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and their aides moved forward today on a new note of harmony sounded at a state banquet yesterday at which the Soviet leader warmly praised British and American contributions to victory and toasted postwar Allied collaboration.
Twice during the elaborate three and one-half hour luncheon in the Sprovtovnaya palace, Stalin rose to emphasize the ties binding Russia and her western allies.
The first time, he solemnly emphasized the need for postwar cooperation in the interests of international security, declaring that "peace loving nations are never prepared but aggressor nations always seem ready." This, he said, must in the future be avoided.
Praise for Allies
Later, after other speakers had acclaimed the Red Army's triumphs, Stalin asserted that Russia could not have done what she has done without the aid of the Allies.
He praised the military might gathered by the United States and Britain, singling out for particular comment the high quality of British-American planning and the work of the Merchant Marine of both countries.
Turning toward U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, seated on his left, the Premier emphasized Russia's gratitude for the great material aid given by the United States.
Previously, in referring to the achievements of Allied statesmen in drafting the Dumbarton Oaks security plan, Stalin also had turned to Harriman and paid a special compliment to Secretary of State Cordell Hull.
Toast to President
Churchill was visibly moved by Stalin's acknowledgment of the British-American war effort.
"It is a sign of a great nation and a great man to be magnanimous and generous," the British prime minister said. "I have always thought, and I think now, that it was the Red Army which clawed the guts out of the filthy Nazis."
Harriman, who spoke twice in response to Stalin's remarks, said the United States was not prepared for war but that Japan had rendered a service by "throwing us into it."
A toast to President Roosevelt was proposed by Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

Invitation to Poles
London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The exile Polish government's Ministry of Information said today that Prime Minister Stanislaw Mikolajczyk had been invited to join the conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin in Moscow.
The invitation, extended also to Polish Foreign Minister Tadeusz Romer, tended to confirm belief that the long-standing Soviet-Polish dispute was a prime cause for Churchill's trip to the Russian capital.
It appeared here that Churchill had gained the first objective in an effort to end the dispute and mend a potential rift in Allied relations.
The cabinet of the exiled government, hurriedly summoned into special session, approved acceptance of the invitation "in principle" and it is probable that the peasant-born premier and his foreign minister will start shortly on their second mission to Moscow.
New Oxford
New Oxford—Mrs. John E. C. Miller entertained the local Garden club at her home during the week.
Elaire Josephine is the name of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith, near Hanover. The mother was formerly Miss Josephine Felty, of this section.

C.O. Goes To Court To Secure Release
Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—A conscientious objector assigned to the government work camp at Kane, Pa., contends he should be released because the internment works hardships on him and his family.
In a habeas corpus petition hearing in federal court yesterday, counsel for Shirley F. Bodenstein of Rochester, N. Y., claimed Bodenstein's draft board improperly classified him and that he should have been given a dependency classification.
Bodenstein's attorney told the court "it was not right" for the government to force a man to change his religious convictions by imposing hardships on his family. He said objectors receive no pay or allowances.
The petition was directed against Vernon Nichols, director of the camp to which Bodenstein is assigned.

TIME OPENING OF DEWEY DRIVE
Albany, Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign managers indicated today the Republican nominee had no intention of starting his stretch drive for the Presidency until he felt the time was ready.
Illustrative of the importance attached by his advisers to the timing and placing of the closing speeches of the campaign were announcements last night and today of broadcasts for which definite arrangements have been made.
Six set speeches were announced, leaving wide gaps in the candidate's time in the nearly four weeks remaining between now and the election. Three of the six had been announced previously but were confirmed by the Republican National committee.
List Radio Speeches
The committee's western division announced today that Dewey would speak in Madison Square Garden, New York city, November 4, 10:30-11 p. m., EWT, (NBC and CBS), and deliver a studio address, election eve, November 6, 11-11:15 p. m., EWT, over four major networks.
The committee announced last night a speech in Buffalo for October 31 and confirmed these addresses: St. Louis, October 16; Minneapolis, October 24, and Chicago, October 25.
In addition, it has been announced that Dewey will speak before the New York Herald Tribune forum on October 18 and in Boston on November 1.

East Berlin
East Berlin—Miss Betty J. Butt, a sophomore at the Lebanon Valley college Conservatory of Music, Annville, was a recent visitor of her mother, Mrs. Grace B. Butt.
Albert L. Bosselman, Jr., R. 1, has been under treatment for a serious fracture of his arm, sustained when he broke through a frame platform while attending a recent auction sale.
Stuart J. Alwine, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alwine, Hanover, formerly of this section, visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Criswell, during his recent leave.
Mrs. Arthur L. Bubbs, who has been seriously ill at her home, is now able to sit up.
Mrs. John Sheaffer is under medical treatment for a neuritis condition.
Mr. and Mrs. William A. Smar and family have been entertaining her sister, Mrs. Marie Freed, Stony Brook.

Physician Dies
Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Dr. James Moorhead Murdoch, 75, who died here Monday.
He was physician and superintendent at Western Penn. State school for the feeble minded at Polk, Pa., from its founding in 1926 until 1936.

CIVILIAN GOODS NOT TO FLOOD MARKETS SOON
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—Some of the things Americans have wanted badly since the war started are being made now—or will be shortly—but don't expect the market to be flooded with them.
They include: Domestic vacuum cleaners, aluminum ware, domestic electric cooking and heating appliances, kitchen and household utensils, metal office furniture, plated silverware.
The number of such items being produced will not fill all civilian needs. This kind of production is fairly scattered and limited and many of the plants are small.
May Make Civilian Goods
But these items and many others are being made under what the War Production Board calls spot authorization. This is how it works:
On August 15 WPB said in effect: Plants which are not needed in whole or in part, for war work, which are in areas not too badly pressed for manpower, and which can be spared the materials will be allowed to make civilian goods.
Plans in such a situation ask for permission. If they fulfill the requirements listed above, WPB gives the permission on materials and the War Manpower commission on manpower.
The plan is intended to help plants reconver to civilian production where they can do so without injuring the war effort. It starts the general reconversion rolling.
At the same time such plants—until Germany collapses and almost all government controls are lifted—will be kept working, their workers will be kept employed, and they can be used for producing civilian goods.
Since Aug. 15 WPB has received 2,500 applications for spot authorization permission and has approved about 500.
(This spot authorization program is in addition to WPB's long-standing "L" plan.)

Mother Held In Slaying Of Babe
Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—A 25-year-old mother of three children was held on an open charge today in the butcher-knife slaying of her five-month-old son.
Homicide Detective Michael Corbett said Mrs. Mary Louise O'Brien, 25, slashed the infant's throat in the backyard of her Hazelwood home Monday.
Mrs. O'Brien's husband, John, said his wife was sitting in the family living room when she suddenly picked up the baby, Robert Bruce, and rushed from the room. In the kitchen she grabbed a butcher knife, then ran into the yard, where the child was slain.
Corbett quoted the husband as saying Mrs. O'Brien had been a patient at Mayview City home and hospital two years ago. Recently, she had become despondent, according to the husband, and he had stayed home from work more than a week to care for her.

Woman Held For Abducting Babe
Detroit, Oct. 11 (AP)—Paul H. Wencel, chief of Detroit detectives, said today that four-month-old Robert James King, who was abducted by a nursemaid Sept. 30, has been returned safely to his parents and that a woman identified as the maid was being held in custody.
Although the woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Eleanor Smith, 23, maintains that the child is her own, Wencel said, positive identification has been made through footprints. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence King, said they were sure the baby was theirs, Wencel said.

ALLOW ITALY MEANS TO BUY U.S. MATERIALS
Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—Italy is being permitted to accumulate dollar balances with which to buy essential civilian goods in this nation through purchases by U. S. Army troops in Italy, exports to the United States and gifts from Americans.
President Roosevelt announced yesterday that the dollar equivalent of the American-printed lire issued to U. S. troops fighting in Italy will be turned over to the Italian government.
In addition, the dollar proceeds of gifts made by Americans to persons in Italy and of any products exported by Italy to this country will be made available to Italy, he said.
Saying "it is to our interests that Italy be able to contribute as fully as possible to the winning of final victory," Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement that "the dollars... will be used by the Italian government to pay for essential civilian supplies purchased in this country for use in liberated Italy."
These supplies will supplement

"substantial amount" of civilian goods such as food, clothing and medical supplies distributed by the U. S. Army "as a necessary part of military operations in Italy," he said.
Italy already has received 35,000 bales of salvaged clothing, 498 cases of new clothing, 1,722 cases of shoes, 3,128 cases of vitamins and food supplements and 170 cases of medical supplies, the War Department said. These goods were donated by private relief organizations.

HEALTH QUIZ
Do you have poor digestion? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel headachy after eating? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel tired—listless? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.
Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.
Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.
Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion when Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

FOOLISH WISE
I've been laughed at; I've been jeered at;
I've been sneered at and derided,
But the fact is, in their practice,
Most have done the same as I did
And when questioned will admit:
Cried, as I, a little bit
And went out with eyes aflame
On the day the grandchild came.
Once they thought I was the only
One who tramped the hall and waited,
Watched and worried, anxious, flurried,
While the doctors operated.
They could face it calmly, maybe!
And as coolly greet a baby
Just arrived through hours of danger
As they would some grown up stranger!
They so wise and I so foolish!
And perhaps I shouldn't doubt them.
I'm the duffer, born to suffer,
But I've learned this truth about them:
Those who sneered at me the loudest
Of their grandchild now are proudest,
And for weakness can be chided,
For they cried a bit, as I did!

Today's Talk

ALERTNESS
William Shakespeare wrote his great play "Julius Caesar" when he was but 37 years of age. In it he brings out the relationship of the citizen to the state, and shows how easy it is for a dictator to sow the seeds of disintegration and decay in a republic.
History is replete with examples of the death of republics that have allowed the voice of a dictator to become so charming and "reasonable" that the people have come to lose their sense of proportion and their guardianship of liberty. It was a republic that Franklin had in mind when the discussion arose as to what form the new government of the united colonies should adopt. A republic under democratic procedure.
Alertness alone is able to save, and keep, an able government, "of the people, by the people, for the people."
Termites work in the dark. They cannot live in the light. They work twenty-four hours a day, silently. They keep boring within, until the strongest structure gives way, and there is ruin. Just so do the forces of evil work in a nation—and just so do their damming work in the individual. We must be on the alert at all times—against the working of destructive forces against health and against character.
The business man must be forever on the alert to note leaks or losses. Constant watchfulness is his key to a successful culmination of his business. Pearl Harbor is the tragic story of failing to be on the alert.
He roosts furthest who is most alert. Test this out in any way you wish and it is sure to prove true. When people become apathetic is when they begin to lose their freedom, for the enemies of freedom are always on the alert.
The privilege of casting a ballot in a democracy is the citizen's greatest weapon for the preservation of his freedom. To fail to register to exercise that great privilege is to render that one unworthy of such citizenship in a free democracy.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Pleasures"

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chinese high command announced Tuesday that Col. Tsao Cheng, regimental commander, had been executed October 7 for failing to carry out his orders in connection with the defense of Pingnan, west river town in Kwangsi province which was recently captured by the Japanese.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Sell O'Neal Property: Miss Annie O'Neal, Carlisle street, and Mrs. J. T. Huddle, of Washington, have sold their Baltimore street property occupied by the Van Cleve family, to Annie C. Cook, of Gettysburg.

Marriage License: David F. Thomas, of Gettysburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Thomas, of Cumberland township, and Miss Catherine Lillian Pfaff, of Hanover, have been granted a marriage license by Clerk of the Courts Sheely.

Council Passes on Fire Zone: An ordinance establishing a fire zone prohibiting the erection of wooden and combustible buildings larger than fifteen by fifteen feet within certain streets in Gettysburg and also requiring fireproof roofs on all structures were passed at the October meeting of the town council on Tuesday night.

Abolish Hazing in All Forms: Loud cracks of paddle followed by shrieks of freshmen being "taken out" on midnight excursions have ceased and residents of the outlying portions of Gettysburg can enjoy their slumber without interruption, for hazing at Gettysburg college has been abolished according to the latest edition of the "Gettysburgian."

Several hundred students signed a petition signifying their intention of voluntarily abolishing the custom if the faculty would consent to take back men previously suspended for hazing.
The faculty unanimously accepted the petition.

Combine with Woman Suffrage: With seventeen states having ratified the Woman's Suffrage Amendment the women voters and suffragists in Pennsylvania and the east are arranging their work with the hope of full ratification in 1920. With this idea in view, a movement is on foot, in which a number of Adams county women are interested, to combine with the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage association on November 9-11 in Philadelphia.

A tentative organization was formed last week of the latter league in Gettysburg with Mrs. Elsie Lewars, Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Mrs. Samuel Knox, Mrs. William Arch McClean, Mrs. Walter O'Neal, Mrs. J. B. Baker, Mrs. William R. Granville, Miss Nina Storrick, Mrs. David Forney and Mrs. E. H. True.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller, of Highland township, announce the birth of a son on Tuesday.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Oct. 11 (AP)—Talks between Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and their aides moved forward today on a new note of harmony sounded at a state banquet yesterday at which the Soviet leader warmly praised British and American contributions to victory and toasted postwar Allied collaboration.

Twice during the elaborate three and one-half hour luncheon in the Sirovovavka palace, Stalin rose to emphasize the ties binding Russia and her western Allies.

The first time, he solemnly emphasized the need for postwar cooperation in the interests of international security, declaring that "peace-loving nations are never prepared but aggressor nations always seem ready." This, he said, must in the future be avoided.

Praise for Allies
Later, after other speakers had acclaimed the Red Army's triumphs, Stalin asserted that Russia could not have done what she has done without the aid of the Allies.

He praised the military might gathered by the United States and Britain, singling out for particular comment the high quality of British-American planning and the work of the Merchant Marine of both countries.

Turning toward U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, seated on his left, the Premier emphasized Russia's gratitude for the great material aid given by the United States.

Previously, in referring to the achievements of Allied statesmen in drafting the Dumbarton Oaks security plan, Stalin also paid a special compliment to Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Toast to President
Churchill was visibly moved by Stalin's acknowledgment of the British-American war effort.

"It is a sign of a great nation and a great man to be magnanimous and generous," the British prime minister said. "I have always thought, and I think now, that it was the Red Army which clawed the guts out of the filthy Nazis."

Harriman, who spoke twice in response to Stalin's remarks, said the United States was not prepared for war but that Japan had rendered a service by "throwing us into it."

Invitation to Poles

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The exile Polish government's Ministry of Information said today that Prime Minister Stanislaw Mikolajczyk had been invited to join the conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin in Moscow.

The invitation, extended also to Polish Foreign Minister Tadeusz Romer, tended to confirm belief that the long-standing Soviet-Polish dispute was a prime cause for Churchill's trip to the Russian capital.

It appeared here that Churchill had gained the first objective in an effort to end the dispute and mend a potential rift in Allied relations.

The cabinet of the exiled government, hurriedly summoned into special session, approved acceptance of the invitation "in principle," and it is probable that the peasant-born premier and his foreign minister will start shortly on their second mission to Moscow.

Elaine Josephine is the name of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith, near Hanover. The mother was formerly Miss Josephine Felty, of this section.

The Misses Rita Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kaiser, and Mabel Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Miller, have left to train at Providence hospital, Washington, D. C., as cadet nurses.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yealy, near town, has been named Terry Lee.

New members will be admitted to the Rosary society of St. Mary's Catholic church next Sunday. Women desiring to join may still present their names.

The First Lutheran church school will observe Rally Day Sunday morning. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Emmanuel Hoover, Rossville.

C.O. Goes To Court To Secure Release

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—A conscientious objector assigned to the government work camp at Kane, Pa., contends he should be released because the internment works hardships on him and his family.

In a habeas corpus petition hearing in federal court yesterday, counsel for Shirley F. Bodenstein of Rochester, N. Y., claimed Bodenstein's draft board improperly classified him and that he should have been given a dependency classification.

Bodenstein's attorney told the court "it was not right" for the government to force a man to change his religious convictions by imposing hardships on his family. He said objectors receive no pay or allowances.

The petition was directed against Vernon Nichols, director of the camp to which Bodenstein is assigned.

TIME OPENING OF DEWEY DRIVE

Albany, Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign managers indicated today the Republican nominee had no intention of starting his stretch drive for the Presidency until he felt the time was ready.

Illustrative of the importance attached by his advisers to the timing and placing of the closing speeches of the campaign were announcements last night and today of broadcasts for which definite arrangements have been made.

Six set speeches were announced, leaving wide gaps in the candidate's time in the nearly four weeks remaining between now and the election. Three of the six had been announced previously but were confirmed by the Republican National committee.

List Radio Speeches

The committee's western division announced today that Dewey would speak in Madison Square Garden, New York city, November 4, 10:30-11 p. m., EWT. (NBC and CBS), and deliver a studio address, election eve, November 6, 11-11:15 p. m., EWT, over four major networks.

The committee announced last night a speech in Buffalo for October 31 and confirmed these addresses: St. Louis, October 16; Minneapolis, October 24, and Chicago, October 25.

In addition, it has been announced that Dewey will speak before the New York Herald Tribune forum on October 18 and in Boston on November 1.

East Berlin

Stuart J. Alwine, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alwine, Hanover, formerly of this section, visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Criswell, during his recent leave.

Mrs. Arthur L. Bubbs, who has been seriously ill at her home, is now able to sit up.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sinner and family have been entertaining her sister, Mrs. Katie Freed, Stony Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Conner, Massachusetts, spent the past week here to prepare for the disposal of the former Hildebrand property which they had owned and where they made their residence for some months during the past year.

Two new officers have been added to the local chapter of the F.F.A. Jay Zeisler has been made vice-president and Charles Lighty was chosen secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Conner sold their home, the former Hildebrand property, at public auction Saturday. It was bought by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weaver, Hanover, for $1,900.

The girls of the Home Economics department of the local high school will conduct a chicken soup sale on Friday, October 20.

Mrs. Jack Smith, Shiloh, will spend some time with her husband at his Louisiana army camp. He visited her during the past week.

Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Frances Grove of near Red Run church.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Myers and children, Janet Mae and Jack, York, and Dr. and Mrs. Oren Gunnelt and Nancy Gunnelt, Jefferson, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers.

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard E. Shaffer and son, Bobby, were visitors of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaffer, York, during the past week.

Rapid progress is being made in the erection of a building at the local public school campus to accommodate the lower grades. It is planned to house the seventh, eighth and high school grades in the main building.

CIVILIAN GOODS NOT TO FLOOD MARKETS SOON

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—Some of the things Americans have wanted badly since the war started are being made now—or will be shortly—but don't expect the market to be flooded with them.

They include: Domestic vacuum cleaners, aluminum ware, domestic electric cooking and heating appliances, kitchen and household utensils, metal office furniture, plated silverware.

The number of such items being produced will not fill all civilian needs. This kind of production is fairly scattered and limited and many of the plants are small.

May Make Civilian Goods

But these items and many others are being made under what the War Production Board calls spot-authorizations. This is how it works:

On August 15 WPB said in effect: Plants which are not needed in whole, or in part, for war work, which are in areas not too badly pressed for manpower, and which can be spared the materials will be allowed to make civilian goods.

Plants in such a situation ask for permission. If they fulfill the requirements listed above, WPB gives the permission on materials and the War Manpower commission on manpower.

The plan is intended to help plants convert to civilian production where they can do so without injuring the war effort. It starts the general reconversion rolling.

At the same time such plants—until Germany collapses and almost all government controls are lifted—will be kept working, their workers will be kept employed, and they can be used for producing civilian goods.

Since Aug. 15 WPB has received 2,500 applications for spot-authorizations and has approved about 500.

Mother Held In Slaying Of Babe

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—A 25-year-old mother of three children was held on an open charge today in the butcher-knife slaying of her five-month-old son.

Homicide Detective Michael Corbett said Mrs. Mary Louise O'Brien, 25, slashed the infant's throat in the backyard of her Hazlewood home Monday.

Mrs. O'Brien's husband, John, said his wife was sitting in the family living room when she suddenly picked up the baby, Robert Bruce, and rushed from the room. In the kitchen she grabbed a butcher knife, then ran into the yard, where the child was slain.

Corbett quoted the husband as saying Mrs. O'Brien had been a patient at Mayview City home and hospital two years ago. Recently, she had become despondent, according to the husband, and he had stayed home from work more than a week to care for her.

Woman Held For Abducting Babe

Detroit, Oct. 11 (AP)—Paul H. Wencel, chief of Detroit detectives, said today that four-month-old Robert James King, who was abducted by a nursemaid Sept. 30, has been returned safely to his parents and that a woman identified as the maid was being held in custody.

Although the woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Eleanor Smith, 33, maintains that the child is her own, Wencel said, positive identification has been made through footprints. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence King, said they were sure the baby was theirs, Wencel said.

ALLOW ITALY MEANS TO BUY U.S. MATERIALS

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—Italy is being permitted to accumulate dollar balances with which to buy essential civilian goods in this nation through purchases by U. S. Army troops in Italy, exports to the United States and gifts from Americans.

President Roosevelt announced yesterday that the dollar equivalent of the American-printed lire issued to U. S. troops fighting in Italy will be turned over to the Italian government.

In addition, the dollar proceeds of gifts made by Americans to persons in Italy and of any products exported by Italy to this country will be made available to Italy, he said.

"Necessary Operations"

Saying "it is to our interests that Italy be able to contribute as fully as possible to the winning of final victory," Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement that "the dollars * * * will be used by the Italian government to pay for essential civilian supplies purchased in this country for use in liberated Italy."

FOOLISH WISE
I've been laughed at; I've been jeered at;
I've been sneered at and derided,
But the fact is, in their practice,
Most have done the same as I did
And when questioned will admit:
Cried, as I, a little bit
And went out with eyes aflame
On the day the grandchild came.Once they thought I was the only
One who tramped the hall and waited,
Watched and worried, anxious, flurried,
While the doctors operated.
They could face it calmly, maybe!
And as coolly greet a baby
Just arrived through hours of danger
As they would some grown up stranger!They so wise and I so foolish!
And perhaps I shouldn't doubt them.
I'm the duffer, born to suffer,
But I've learned this truth about them:
Those who sneered at me the loudest
Of their grandchild now are proudest,
And for weakness can be chided,
For they cried a bit, as I did!

Today's Talk

ALERTNESS
William Shakespeare wrote his great play "Julius Caesar" when he was but 37 years of age. In it he brings out the relationship of the citizen to the state, and shows how easy it is for a dictator to sow the seeds of disintegration and decay in a republic.
History is replete with examples of the death of republics that have allowed the voice of a dictator to become so charming and "reasonable" that the people have come to lose their sense of proportion and their guardianship of liberty. It was a republic that Franklin had in mind when the discussion arose as to what form the new government of the united colonies should adopt. A republic under democratic procedure.

Alertness alone is able to save, and keep, an able government, "of the people, by the people, for the people."

Termites work in the dark. They cannot live in the light. They work twenty-four hours a day, silently. They keep boring within, until the strongest structure gives way, and there is ruin. Just so do the forces of evil work in a nation—and just so do their damaging work in the individual. We must be on the alert at all times—against the working of destructive forces against health and against character.

The business man must be forever on the alert to note leaks or losses. Constant watchfulness is his key to a successful culmination of his business. Pearl Harbor is the tragic story of failing to be on the alert.
He goes further who is most alert. Test this out in any way you wish and it is sure to prove true. When people become apathetic is when they begin to lose their freedom, for the enemies of freedom are always on the alert.

The privilege of casting a ballot in a democracy is the citizen's greatest weapon for the preservation of his freedom. To fail to register to exercise that great privilege is to render that one unworthy of such citizenship in a free democracy.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Pleasures"

Chungking, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chinese high command announced Tuesday that Col. Thao Cheng, regimental commander, had been executed October 7 for failing to carry out his orders in connection with the defense of Pingnan, west river town in Kwangsi province which was recently captured by the Japanese.

Council Passes on Fire Zone: An ordinance establishing a fire zone prohibiting the erection of wooden and combustible buildings larger than fifteen by fifteen feet within certain streets in Gettysburg and also requiring fireproof roofs on all structures were passed at the October meeting of the town council on Tuesday night.

Abolish Hazing In All Forms: Loud cracks of paddle followed by shrieks of freshmen being "taken out" on midnight excursions have ceased and residents of the outlying portions of Gettysburg can enjoy their slumber without interruption, for hazing at Gettysburg college has been abolished according to the latest edition of the "Gettysburgian." Several hundred students signed a petition signifying their intention of voluntarily abolishing the custom if the faculty would consent to take back men previously suspended for hazing. The faculty unanimously accepted the petition.

Combine with Woman Suffrage: With seventeen states having ratified the Woman's Suffrage Amendment in Pennsylvania and the east are arranging their work with the hope of full ratification in 1920. With this idea in view, a movement is on foot, in which a number of Adams county women are interested, to combine with the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage association on November 9-11 in Philadelphia.

A tentative organization was formed last week of the latter league in Gettysburg with Mrs. Elsie Lewars, Mrs. Donald P. FULL HARMONY

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Oct. 11 (AP)—Talks between Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and their aides moved forward today on a new note of harmony sounded at a state banquet yesterday at which the Soviet leader warmly praised British and American contributions to victory and toasted postwar Allied collaboration.

Twice during the elaborate three and one-half hour luncheon in Spirovonavka palace, Stalin rose to emphasize the ties binding Russia and her western Allies.

The first time, he solemnly emphasized the need for postwar cooperation in the interests of international security, declaring that "peace loving nations are never prepared but aggressor nations always seem ready." This, he said, must in the future be avoided.

Praise for Allies

Later, after other speakers had acclaimed the Red Army's triumphs, Stalin asserted that Russia could not have done what she has done without the aid of the Allies.

He praised the military might gathered by the United States and Britain, singling out for particular comment the high quality of British-American planning and the work of the Merchant Marine of both countries.

Turning toward U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, seated on his left, the Premier emphasized Russia's gratitude for the great material aid given by the United States.

Previously, in referring to the achievements of Allied statesmen in drafting the Dumbarton Oaks security plan, Stalin also had turned to Harriman and paid a special compliment to Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Toast to President

Churchill was visibly moved by Stalin's acknowledgment of the British-American war effort.
"It is a sign of a great nation and a great man to be magnanimous and generous," the British prime minister said. "I have always thought, and I think now, that it was the Red Army which clawed the guts out of the filthy Nazis."

Harriman, who spoke twice in response to Stalin's remarks, said the United States was not prepared for war but that Japan had rendered a service by "throwing us into it."

Invitation to Poles

London, Oct. 11 (AP)—The exile Polish government's Ministry of Information said today that Prime Minister Stanislaw Mikolajczyk had been invited to join the conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin in Moscow.

The invitation, extended also to Polish Foreign Minister Tadeusz Romer, tended to confirm belief that the long-standing Soviet-Polish dispute was a prime cause for Churchill's trip to the Russian capital.

It appeared here that Churchill had gained the first objective in an effort to end the dispute and mend a potential rift in Allied relations.

The cabinet of the exiled government, hurriedly summoned into special session, approved acceptance of the invitation "in principle," and it is probable that the peasant-born premier and his foreign minister will start shortly on their second mission to Moscow.

New Oxford

New Oxford.—Mrs. John E. C. Miller entertained the local Garden club at her home during the week.

Elsie Josephine is the name of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith, near Hanover. The mother was formerly Miss Josephine Felty, of this section.

The Misses Rita Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kaiser, and Mabel Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Miller, have left to train at Providence hospital, Washington, D. C., as cadet nurses.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yealy, near town, has been named Terry Lee.

New members will be admitted to the Rosary society of St. Mary's Catholic church next Sunday. Women desiring to join may still present their names.

The First Lutheran church school will observe Rally Day Sunday morning. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Emmanuel Hoover, Rossville.

PHYSICIAN DIES

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Dr. James Moorhead Murdoch 75, who died here Monday.

He was physician and superintendent at western Pennsylvania school for the feeble minded at Polk, Pa., from its founding in 1896 until 1926.

C.O. Goes To Court
To Secure Release

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—A conscientious objector assigned to the government work camp at Kane, Pa., contends he should be released because the internment works hardships on him and his family.

In a habeas corpus petition hearing in federal court yesterday, counsel for Shirley F. Bodenstein of Rochester, N. Y., claimed Bodenstein's draft board improperly classified him and that he should have been given a dependency classification.

Bodenstein's attorney told the court "it was not right" for the government to force a man to change his religious convictions by imposing hardships on his family. He said objectors receive no pay or allowances.

The petition was directed against Vernon Nichols, director of the camp to which Bodenstein is assigned.

ALLOW ITALY
U.S. MATERIALS

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—Italy is being permitted to accumulate dollar balances with which to buy essential civilian goods in this nation through purchases by U. S. Army troops in Italy, exports to the United States and gifts from Americans.

President Roosevelt announced yesterday that the dollar equivalent of the American-printed lire issued to U. S. troops fighting in Italy will be turned over to the Italian government.

In addition, the dollar proceeds of gifts made by Americans to persons in Italy and of any products exported by Italy to this country will be made available to Italy, he said.

"Necessary Operations"

Saying "it is to our interests that Italy be able to contribute as fully as possible to the winning of final victory," Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement that "the dollars * * * will be used by the Italian government to pay for essential civilian supplies purchased in this country for use in liberated Italy."

These supplies will supplement

CHARGES WITHDRAWN

Paul Sterner, Cumberland township, withdrew charges Tuesday evening which he had laid earlier against Leroy Miller, Hanover, accusing him of willfully and maliciously breaking a number of windows in Sterner's house. Miller was arrested Monday and had been released on $500 bail for a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore this morning.

FRENCH AUTHOR DIES

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—The dean of Philadelphia's French colony, Pierre Francis Giroud, 89, died yesterday after a long illness. An author and lecturer, Giroud was an officer of the French Legion of Honor. He taught at a number of schools and colleges and was the founder of the Philadelphia Alliance Francaise.

RELIGION - LABOR CONFAB CLOSES

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—The first international religion-labor conference ended a three-day session here today with discussions on "a program of action" led by Dr. Dwight J. Bradley, staff member of the National Citizens' Political Action committee.

Highlighting the second day's sessions was a mass meeting last night addressed by James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the Congress of Industrial Organizations; Miss Thelma Stevens, executive secretary of the Department of Christian Social Relations, women's division, Methodist church, and Mrs. Anna Arnold Hegdeman, executive secretary of the National Council for a Permanent Fair Employment Practices committee.

Miss Stevens predicted bitter postwar conflict for jobs "between white and negro, native and foreign born, men and women, young and old, unless adequate job opportunities are provided somehow."

Carey told the conference "we must insure employers a market at reasonable prices so they will produce the goods and services we all need, and thereby provide full employment."

Unless that is done, Carey added, "there won't be jobs for the negroes, war veterans, farmers, war workers and professional groups sufficient to provide prosperity."

LEAGUE NAMES

(Continued From Page 1) on the confusion and turmoil of the mind today, particularly in youth, primarily because of the war, national election and problems in the home. He told of the work of the Student Christian Association which for the first time in its history has a young woman as president, Miss Dorothy Keeney.

He said that SOA committees are in charge of weekly services at the county jail and county home, a Bible school at the colored church, preparation of Christmas boxes to send to colored boys in the service, financial support to the World Student Fellowship Service and War Fund drive as well as many other projects which come up during the year.

The members of the executive board of the League served as hostesses during the social hour which followed the meeting. Mrs. Kramer presided at the tea table.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas Tea on Tuesday, December 12th.

Injury Dims Pitt's Hopes With Army

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—Pitt's hopes of putting up any kind of a battle against Army at West Point Saturday received a blow today in the loss of Francis MacToll, star guard of the Panther gridgers, who suffered a severe back injury in the Bethany game last week.

MacToll will be out for the rest of the season, Coach Clark Slaughter said. A Navy V-12 student in dental school, the Brackenridge Pa. player was one of two four-year lettermen on an almost wholly freshman squad.

Maid Makes Her Services Costly

Philadelphia, Oct. 10 (AP)—Police estimate it cost Philadelphia matrons approximately $2,000 an hour to hire Myrtle Vaughn as maid.

Charged with robbing homes of some $50,000 in cash, clothing and jewelry, the woman would work "only about 30 minutes in each place before leaving with everything that was loose," said Detective Lt. Bart Gorman.

DR. ROXER DIES

Franklin, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP)—Funeral services will be held at Tiffin, Ohio, Saturday for the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Bunn Roxer, 75, former moderator of the Erie Presbytery and also of the Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania. He died Monday.

HANGS SELF

Erie, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP)—Coroner W. W. Wood reported John E. Zeiser, 72, well-known grocer here for 30 years, was found hanging in the basement of his store yesterday.

SAYS EDUCATION SYSTEM MUST GO WITH THE NAZIS

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, Philadelphia superintendent of schools, says destruction of the Nazi educational system is just as important as doing away with German munition factories.

He told delegates to the 38th annual convention of the Pennsylvania congress of parents and teachers last night that "no man or woman who has ever taught the Nazi doctrine must ever be permitted to teach again."

Postwar release of army education equipment to public schools was urged by J. Willard Newton, president of the Pennsylvania state education association.

He said that shortage of teachers presents the most serious problem before the congress, adding that registration at state teachers' colleges dropped from 10,408 in 1942 to 3,701 in 1943.

Plea for Teachers Dr. Francis B. Hoas, superintendent of public instruction, said Pennsylvania's returned war veterans have been slow to take advantage of the education opportunities offered in the GI bill of rights.

He said many are attracted by high wages and may never return to school.

The state superintendent urged adequate salary schedules in school districts in order to attract and hold teachers.

"We must be prepared to give teachers compensation so that they can live at a level at which we would like the teachers of our children to live."

He said post-war plans which avoided full responsibility by the individual community and looked only to the state and federal government for funds were not sound.

Irons For Those Most In Need

Mansfield, Ohio, Oct. 11 (AP)—Electric irons once more are rolling off the assembly line, but the manufacturer warns the War Production Board's release of two million of them "will cover only a small part of the need."

Production of the irons has already begun at Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company's appliance division here, Vice President and Plant Manager J. H. Ashbaugh announced yesterday.

However, the irons are intended by the government to go only to those who need them most. Ashbaugh said, adding:

"Consumers who have irons that they can use are urged to use them, giving those people who have no irons at all the first chance to buy."

Four months were required to begin assembly of the irons after permission was granted for their production, he said. They are the first consumer goods to be made at the plant since May, 1942.

Chapter 30
Scoopy, the bootblack, had disappeared and with him the clue to the murderer. An examination of his shop failed to reveal the other pair of shoes bearing the new kind of print. A dragnet was set to locate the missing man.

As Susan and Erich returned to the street, after a futile search of the shop, a car pulled to the curb.

"Get in!" Julie and Thorny called from the back seat. Both doors opened as the car slowed, and Susan and Erich jumped for them.

The Constable was at the wheel. He said cheerfully as he shoved down the throttle, "Doc Merrill called Jim Lockhart's pretty sick and he called for Julie. Wonder how Dalah's gonna take that?"

Startled, Susan glanced back at Julie. "You mustn't go! You mustn't go! You mustn't! Jim Lockhart's delirious."

There were tears in Julie's large eyes. She said slowly, "I've known Jim since I can remember knowing anyone. If I were dying, who knows? I might want to see him. And if I did—I'd want him to come."

They went up the flower-bordered path to the gleaming white steps of the Lockhart house.

From somewhere the sound of Dalah Lockhart's dry sobs started. Merrill opened the bedroom door. "Might as well all come in," he said. A desperate, if futile, attempt to stop the spread of that scandal. Susan thought wearily.

She was shocked by the sunken features of Jim Lockhart. His eyes were clear but his tongue moved thickly.

"Julie," Julie went across to the bed and took his hand. Merrill closed the door and moved up beside Erich and Susan. "He didn't seem any worse today," he said in an undertone. "I was taking his pulse and telling him your wife fella of the painted shoe when he had this stroke."

"No," he said. Thorny, come here, Erich... Susan... Dalah... He got a couple of heavy breaths with effort his voice went thickly but stubbornly on. "Have to tell you—everything—don't want to go through death like I—have through life. Too hard..."

"Julie gave a low cry. Erich's hand gripped Susan's.

Lockhart's eyes were fixed on Julie's tense face. "I'm sorry, Julie—what I did to your life. Always liked you too much. Always jealous of Corboy." His eyes closed.

Julie cried, "Jim! The night of the fire—that happened?"

Lockhart's dulling eyes cleared with effort. "Night of the fire. Yes, I went to the lab. I—picked the fight. And then the burner went over—something exploded. I ran—I thought John was behind me—but he didn't come out. I tried to go back, Julie—but the wall fell..."

"It was an accident!" Julie's eyes

Injury Dims Pitt's Hopes With Army

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—Pitt's hopes of putting up any kind of a battle against Army at West Point Saturday received a blow today in the loss of Francis Mattioli, star guard of the Panther gridgers, who suffered a severe back injury in the Bethany game last week.

Mattioli will be out for the rest of the season, Coach Clark Shaughnessy said. A Navy V-12 student in dental school, the Brackenridge, Pa., player was one of two four-year lettermen on an almost wholly freshman squad.

Maid Makes Her Services Costly

Philadelphia, Oct. 10 (AP)—Police estimate it cost Philadelphia matrons approximately $2,000 an hour to hire Myrtle Vaughn as maid. Charged with robbing homes of some $50,000 in cash, clothing and jewelry, the woman would work "only about 30 minutes in each place before leaving with everything that was loose," said Detective Lt. Bart Gorman.

DR. ROYER DIES

Franklin, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP)—Funeral services will be held at Tiffin, Ohio, Saturday for the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Bunn Royer, 75, former moderator of the Erie Presbytery and also of the Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania. He died Monday.

HANGS SELF

Erie, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP)—Coroner W. W. Wood reported John E. Zisker, 72, well-known grocer here for 50 years, was found hanging in the basement of his store yesterday.

SAYS EDUCATION SYSTEM MUST GO WITH THE NAZIS

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, Philadelphia superintendent of schools, says destruction of the Nazi educational system is just as important as doing away with German munition factories.

He told delegates to the 38th annual convention of the Pennsylvania congress of parents and teachers last night that "no man or woman who has ever taught the Nazi doctrine must ever be permitted to teach again."

Postwar release of army education equipment to public schools was urged by J. Willard Newton, president of the Pennsylvania state education association.

He said that shortage of teachers presents the most serious problem before the congress, adding that registration at state teachers' colleges dropped from 10,408 in 1942 to 3,701 in 1943.

Plea for Teachers

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, said Pennsylvania's returned war veterans have been slow to take advantage of the education opportunities offered in the GI bills of rights. He said many are attracted by high wages and may never return to school.

The state superintendent urged adequate salary schedules in school districts in order to attract and hold teachers.

"We must be prepared to give teachers compensation so that they can live at a level at which we would like the teachers of our children to live."

He said post-war plans which avoided full responsibility by the individual community and looked only to the state and federal government for funds were not sound.

Irons For Those Most In Need

Mansfield, Ohio, Oct. 11 (AP)—Electric irons once more are rolling off the assembly line, but the manufacturer warns the War Production Board's release of two million of them "will cover only a small part of the need."

Production of the irons has already begun at Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company's appliance division here, Vice President and Plant Manager J. H. Ashbaugh announced yesterday.

However, the irons are intended by the government to go only to those who need them most, Ashbaugh said, adding:

"Consumers who have irons that they can use are urged to use them, giving those people who have no irons at all the first chance to buy."

RELIGION - LABOR CONFAB CLOSES

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—The first international religion-labor conference ended a three-day session here today with discussions on "a program of action" led by Dr. Dwight J. Bradley, staff member of the National Citizens' Political Action committee.

Highlighting the second day's sessions was a mass meeting last night addressed by James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the Congress of Industrial Organizations; Miss Thelma Stevens, executive secretary of the Department of Christian Social Relations, women's division, Methodist church, and Mrs. Anna Arnold Hedgeman, executive secretary of the National Council for a Permanent Fair Employment Practices committee.

Miss Stevens predicted bitter postwar conflict for jobs "between white and negro, native and foreign born, men and women, young and old, unless adequate job opportunities are provided somehow."

Carey told the conference "we must insure employers a market at reasonable prices so they will produce the goods and services we all need, and thereby provide full employment."

Unless that is done, Carey added, "there won't be jobs for the negroes, war veterans, farmers, war workers and professional groups sufficient to provide prosperity."

"Think he'll pull through?" Thorny's whisper was faint but Jim Lockhart caught it.

"No," he said. "Thorny, come here, Erich. . . Susan. . . Daliah. . ."

He got a couple of heavy breaths with effort, his voice went thickly but stubbornly on. "Have to tell you—everything—don't want to go through death like I have through life. Too hard. . ."

His tone was a confession. Julie gave a low cry. Erich's hand gripped Susan's.

And then the burner went over—something exploded. I ran—I thought John was behind me—but he didn't come out. I tried to go back, Julie—but the wall fell. . ."

"It was an accident!" Julie's eyes were shining. "Why didn't you tell Jim?"

"I meant to tell," Lockhart said slowly, "but the crowd—so mad—kept shouting it was murder—When they blamed Scarbrough, I thought he could protect himself—he was rich and powerful. I was young and poor. . . and a coward." His eyes closed again.

Julie was crying, but Erich moved closer. "Why did you kill Kelso Bachman last week?" he said clearly.

Lockhart's eyes opened again slowly, his voice was clearer. "Kelso passed the lab on his rounds that night. He saw me fighting with Corboy. Later, I went to his room—gave him all the money I'd saved to make a false statement—leave town. . ."

"And when he read of Julie's return to Midvale," Erich carried on relentlessly, "he returned, found you wealthy, demanded real money. You stalled for time. He sent Julie the letter to scare you. When you met him the second time and he refused the money you offered him and threatened exposure, you went berserk. You were in the bathhouse. You picked up the anchor and hit him."

Lockhart's last smile was for Julie. "He's smart—like you, Julie."

It was hot and bright the day the Scarbrough factory opened. Nobody minded. The school banded the town parade. There were picnic tables in the park. Town Council members spoke eloquently of the blight of misunderstandings lifted and the great future of Midvale.

And Dr. Merrill's announcement that Julie Scarbrough had given Scarbrough House to Midvale for their much-needed hospital brought tears along with the shouts and applause.

It was one of the few times Aunt Sarah roused from her listless torpor. "Where will Julie live?"

Erich's arm tightened around Susan. "It doesn't matter to Julie," he said. "Drift for a while probably. She says she's never seen the world except through the eyes of an outcast. Now it will be changed—because she has a home to come back to."

The End

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—Deputy Secretary Samuel Jackson, of the Pennsylvania State Department, said Tuesday that the vote of a soldier who met death after mailing his military ballot could be counted by county election bureaus.

Harrisburg, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Federated Legislative Committee of Pennsylvania, comprising church and temperance group representatives, says in a resolution that "we publicly denounce" what it terms an attempt of the Political Action Committee "to use the church for its own political ends."

WAYNESBORO, MAROONS SEEK INITIAL WIN

Two victory-starved football teams, both seeking their initial victory of the season, will clash here Friday evening when the Gettysburg and Waynesboro high elevens meet in a Southern Pennsylvania interscholastic conference game.

Friday night's tilt looms as a golden opportunity for the Maroons to crash into the win column for the first time since 1942. Waynesboro has lost 31-6 to Martinsburg and 20-0 to Carlisle in its only games of the season.

Gettysburg has been blanked by Shippensburg 14-0, Carlisle 26-0, and Hanover 27-0 in three games.

Lose It In Row

The Maroons losing streak has now extended to 11 straight over a span of two years. Waynesboro's record is somewhat better although the Tornado recorded but one conference victory last year, a 38-6 win over Gettysburg.

Coaches Mel Dry and Cliff Hartman are expected to throw everything they have into the coming game in order to pull their teams from the depths of defeat and one of the hardest fought games of the season is in prospect.

In their first three games the locals entered the tilts as decided underdogs and while Waynesboro will be the favorite for the coming fray it will be the first time Gettysburg is regarded as having a chance for victory.

Both squads are undergoing intensive drills in polishing up on their offensives which have been prominent by their absence.

The Biglerville and Maroon squads will meet in a scrimmage under the lights here this evening.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—Court coaches are more optimistic than last year and expect a lot of help from returning war veterans. At least two should figure prominently on local teams—Al Grenett, back from the Marines to NYU, and Bill Levine, returning to CCNY from the Army.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

GENTLE PASTIME

An Ohio football official reports finding the toughest and best football player in the world in a game between Columbus St. Charles and West Jefferson. . . . A West Jefferson pass was intercepted and as the official headed toward the pileup, one West Jeff boy called: "Hey, Ref, watch that 79. He's slugging me on every play." . . . Five steps further another kid complained: "Gee whiz, watch that 79. He just slugged me." . . . As he stopped where the players were being untangled, the official heard still another West Jeff boy remark: "Keep your eyes on that 79; he just slugged me." . . . When the pile of players finally was loosened, there on the bottom was 79—with the ball. . . . Along the same lines is a story they tell in Iowa about Heavy Graham, who used to referee a lot of big games. . . . On one occasion a player kept complaining that a rival was slugging, asking: "Did you see that?" . . . twice Graham ignored the complaint, then after a third terrific belt, the player again asked: "Did you see that?" . . . "Yeah," replied Graham. "Wasn't it a daisy?"

EASY EXPERTING

Before returning from the World Series to Greenville, S. C., Carter (Scoop) Latimer dispatched this wire: "It may be a case of a man giving a hot dog indigestion, but take a tip that Marty Marion will receive the award as the most valuable player this year." . . . Right on both counts.

SERVICE DEPT.

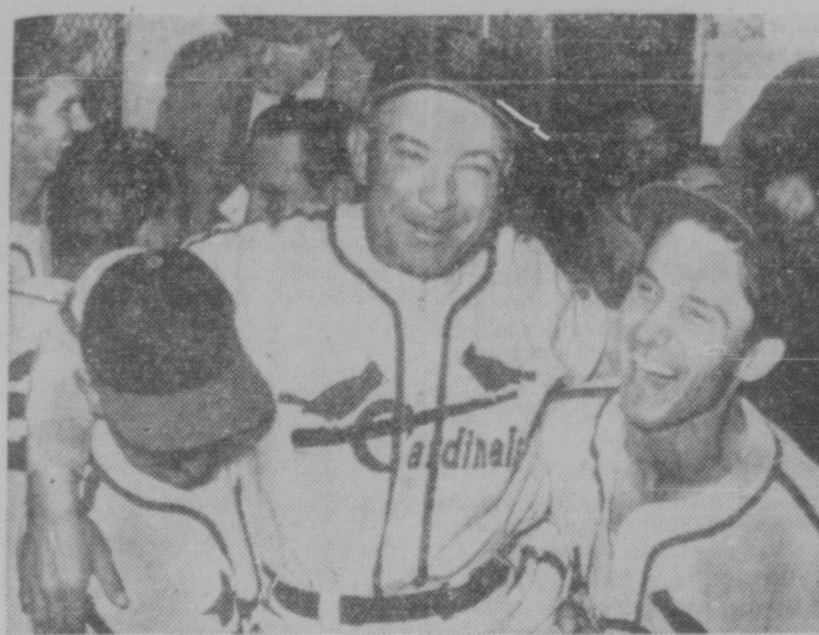

Two communiques from Fort Benning, Ga., point out that the Third Infantry Cockades, representing the oldest unit in the United States Army, is the football team that walloped Maxwell Field, Ala., and took the same from Morris Field, N. C. . . . The "dope" says the Third, paced by Indiana's Billy Hillenbrand, Lou Saban and Chuck Jacoby, should have the edge over the Fourth Infantry Raiders when they clash next Sunday. . . . Two former pro hockey players, Goalie Omar Kelly (Rangers) and Forward Jack Riley (Hershey) are back in Toronto to after serving in the United States Army. LOUIS EXPECTS FISTIC TALENT OUT OF ARMY

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, back from the European and African war theaters, expects some good fistic talent to emerge from the armed services.

The champ, only seven pounds over the 207½ pounds at which he made his last title defense against Abe Simon in 1942, said he ran into some "real tough boys" as he appeared in 73 exhibitions in England, Scotland, Ireland, Africa and Italy. More than a million G.I.'s saw the shows "for free."

Louis said Elzira Thompson of Cleveland, whom he first met in a three-rounder in Reading, England, gave him so much trouble that he met him four more times. Then came Johnny Ebarb, an Air Corps mess officer from Oakland, California, whom he met in Italy twice, and George Culbertson, a Brooklyn Boy.

"Mills Ain't Got Nothing"
The champion predicted Tommy Mills, who recently lost the British heavyweight championship to Jack London, would not cut much of a figure in post-war fistfights.

"That Mills ain't got nothing," Louis said. "He throws his left hook from way down low and way back, and he throws his right like a baseball pitcher—only he don't throw it so good."

The champ, now 30, said he'd be ready to defend his title when the war ends.

"Lots of fellows have been good heavyweights at 35 or 36," he said, "so I guess I'll be all right for a while. The Army is treating me right, letting me fight like this, and keep close to the game. . . . But there's goin' to be lots of good boys come out of that Army—yes sir, lots of 'em."

Baltimore Gains Little Series Lead

Baltimore, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Louisville Colonels of the American association face an uphill fight in tonight's sixth little world series game with two victories to Baltimore's three.

Baltimore's Orioles, champions of the International league, pounded three Louisville hurlers last night to fashion a 10-0 victory behind the four-hit pitching of Charles (Red) Embree, ace of the Oriols staff.

Baltimore Manager Alphonse (Tommy) Thomas named Stan West to start on the mound tonight, gambling on the right arm which only Sunday defeated Louisville 7-4 in 14 innings.

Mel Deutsch, who won 14 games and lost 11 for Louisville in the regular season, was the selection of Manager Harry (Nemo) Leibold.

Bricker Takes Pitcher's Mound

Wenatchee, Wash., Oct. 11 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, once a catcher for Ohio State university, took the other side of the battery last night and did all right.

The Republican candidate for vice president pitched the first ball in a game between American and National League all stars—and it was over the plate for a strike.

SPORT SHORTS

Hershey, Pa. (AP)—Hershey Bears, top place club in the eastern division of the American Hockey league last season, will play an exhibition game here with the Pittsburgh Hornets Saturday night, October 14.

Cooney Weiland is starting his fourth season as Bears' coach while the Hornets will have a new mentor, Max Kaminsky, who played center with the Buffalo Bisons for several seasons.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—Lt. Walter E. Shinn, USNR, who captained the 1938 Penn football team, has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, the University said it learned yesterday.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—Right Tackle Walt Stickle will captain the University of Pennsylvania football team in Saturday's game against William and Mary.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—Several second-string players will get a chance on the varsity when Temple plays New York university Saturday, says Coach Ray Morrison.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles announced they have reacquired Ted Lutz, backfield man whom they traded to the Boston Yanks before the National football league season opened.

Million Dollar Take By Meters

Parking meters in Pennsylvania towns and cities yield more than a million dollars a year, a survey by the Institute of Local Government at the Pennsylvania State college today revealed.

This state, according to the study, has twice as many meters as any other state and in 1943, they produced $1,085,541. In 1942, the yield was $1,169,528.

The study showed that of 400 communities employing meters in the United States, 84 or 20 per cent are located in Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania meters number 23,127, in 28 cities, 55 boroughs, and one township.

Pro Grid Loop Leaders To Meet

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steeler-Chicago Cardinal National Football league combine has resumed practice at Forbes field in preparation for Sunday's game with the Bears at Chicago. The clubs are tied for last place in the league's Western division with two losses apiece and no victories.

Co-Coaches Walt Kiesling and Phil Handler expressed satisfaction in the initial workout yesterday with the quarterbacking of Johnny McCarthy, former St. Francis college star, who appears certain to fill the vacancy left when Coley McDonough entered the Army last week.

FEW CIGARETTES

Erie, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP)—Two stores in this city which received supplies of cigarettes had anxious smokers queued outside in a driving rain yesterday. A single package was allotted each customer. Most other stores in the city reported no cigarettes at all.

Could Cleopatra Drink a Pearl with Stomach Ulcer Pains?

An intriguing story of Cleopatra is the one where an admirer praised the beauty of two of her pearls, whereupon she dropped one into a glass of wine and drank it. She would hardly have done this had she suffered after-eating pains. Those who are distressed with stomach or ulcer pains, indigestion, gas, pain, heartburn, burning sensation, bloating and other conditions caused by excess acid should try Udo's.
